By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Taste of Antioch and the sidewalk sales of Maxwell Street Days will start in downtown Antioch Thursday, July 16 and continue through Sunday, July 19. It is an opportunity to sample food and shop for Christmas.

Well, actually, people can shop for any reason or season. Shopping for December holidays may make a person feel cooler, however.

Main Street, Lake Street, and Orchard Plaza merchants load tables on sidewalks with merchandise and offer discounts to recreate the shopping atmosphere of the historic Maxwell Street open market area of Chicago. It is their biggest sale of the year.

Shopping hours will be from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. Sunday shopping hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Restaurants from throughout the area converge on Toft Avenue to offer some of their menu items.

Participating restaurants this year will include Antioch Pizza, Wunder Bar, Baskin Robbins ice cream, Triple J Steakhouse, DiMarco's, and TNT's Place.

Other participants will include the Dairy Queen, Taco Bell, Golden Panda, Something Sweet, Szechwan Palace, and R Dogs.

JC's Pizzeria, Novel Coffee, and Jensen House will also be present.

Besides shopping and food, there will also be entertainment. On Thursday, The Discords and Scotch Lads will perform on the stage. Friday there will be White Saddle. On both days, there will be bingo.

Saturday will feature the Grease Band, Benny the Bull, and Lost Childhood. Sunday, the featured entertainment is BBI and also the Lakes Area Band.

Taste of Antioch and the Maxwell Street Days sidewalk sale is sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Other major sponsors include: the Advertiser Network, radio stations WIL/WLIP, Antioch News, State Bank of The Lakes, Doyle's Distributions, RC Cola, First National Bank-Employee Owned, Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Impressions Count, and Pickard China.

Staff Reporter

The summer musical production "Grease" opens at the PM&L Theater tonight, Friday, July 10 for its four-weekend sold-out engagement.

Two additional weekend performances have been added to the schedule just this week.

Final week rehearsals reveal a show filled with spirit, good singing, choreography that works, and a cast that projects the fun they are having with their performance.

The spirited musical will end one of the theater group's most successful seasons.

"These are all enthusiastic, marvelous performers that we have here," said Director Mickey Mandel. "It looks wonderful."

PM&L Theater president Fran Jansta said, "This will be great. This will be lots of fun. It's a nice way to end the season."

This season ends with an extension of two shows, according to Aileen Biel. The new performances will be Saturday, July 18 and 25 at 2:30 p.m.

"Grease" is a 1950s Rock 'n' Roll Musical Comedy that appears on the Antioch stage during the summer of the re-release of the movie version of the production which featured John Travolta and Olivia-Newton John.

Director Mandel is enthusiastic about the production quality because of the fun the cast has had preparing the show.

"I think they bonded from day one," she said. "People came into this show knowing the music before they even got into rehearsal, which

NBA referee charged in income tax case

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

An area NBA official was one of five individuals charged with filing false federal income tax returns.

Ronald F. Olesiak, of Antioch, will be summoned to appear for arraignment at U.S. District Court. He was accused of three counts of criminal indictment for failing to report $65,000 in income he allegedly earned from "downgrading" airline tickets.

According to federal prosecutors, the National Association of Basketball Referees, and the NBA have a collective bargaining agreement which allows first class travel on airline flights lasting more than two hours. The labor contract required the NBA to permit the referees to fly in other than first class and "downgrade" to other sections, allowing them to keep the difference for personal use.

"The right to downgrade airline tickets was a major employment inducement by which potential NBA referees were told they could supplement their salaries. Excess reimbursement from downgrading was required to be reported as income, on the individual's tax return," Randall Samborn, spokesperson for U.S. Attorney General office for Northern Illinois, said in a press release.

Referees were regularly informed of their tax obligations to the IRS, according to prosecutors.

Olesiak allegedly did not report $18,518 in 1992 and $32,279 in 1994.

If convicted in court, he could face fines of $250,000 on each count.

No hearing date has been set. Efforts to reach Olesiak, formerly of Gurnee, for comment were unsuccessful.

Two juveniles sentenced

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Two juvenile males, both 14, involved in the shooting death of Stacey Jesse, 14, of Antioch, have been sentenced and two others, also 14, have had their cases continued. The Lake County Juvenile Court decisions were handed down July 1.

The case of the first minor who allegedly fired the gun was continued to July 22 to await further pre-trial reports. He has been charged with involuntary manslaughter.

The second minor who stole the gun admitted to a class three felony of a charge of unlawful sale of firearms. He was sentenced to juvenile intersive probation, and ordered to perform public service and to prepare a 1,000-word essay on the hazards of firearms.

The third minor who handled the gun admitted to unlawful possession of firearms by a minor. He was sentenced to juvenile intensive probation and ordered to perform public service. He was further ordered to participate in counseling as directed by juvenile probation officials.

The case of the fourth minor is to be considered July 15.

Stacey Jesse died April 14 from a head wound by a .25-caliber handgun.

Judge Joseph Waldeck is hearing the cases.

Bank raising funds for baseball complex

Employees get to dress casual for donation

Employees and customers at First National Bank-Employee Owned will have an opportunity to contribute money to Lakes Region Youth Baseball Friday, July 17.

The Antioch and Gurnee offices of the employee-owned bank will have "Casual Because We Care Day" to raise $2 from each employee who dresses in casual clothes that day. Casual dress acts as a reminder for employees to tell customers about the four-diamond baseball complex being built on Grass Lake Road. Customers and community members also may contribute money that will be donated to the project.

Lakes Region Youth Baseball is constructing diamonds on Grass Lake Road just west of Deep Lake Road. The first completed field, named for Cubs baseball player Ron Santo, was dedicated Monday, July 6.

The group is currently raising money with a Chevrolet Cavalier Raffle. The new vehicle was donated by Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile of Antioch. Raffle tickets may be purchased at the dealership.

The purpose of the baseball project is to provide more children in the Lake County area with the opportunity to play baseball. The existing program serves more than 900 children from the area of Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Round Lake, and Grayslake Townships.

People who would like to contribute funds to the bank's "Casual Because We Care Day" for Lakes Region Youth Baseball complex can call Karen Kubin at 847-838-2265 or come into the Antioch or Gurnee bank locations during business hours on July 17.

STILL JOGGING AFTER ALL THESE YEARS

In the last few years, a number of new and exotic exercises have appeared - roller-blading, bench-stepping, pool dancing, rap-aer-cize, and indoor rock climbing. What most of these have in common is the rapidity with which they fall in and out of favor. In spite of injuries, boredom and disillusion for some, jogging remains the exercise of choice for a majority of people who are regularly active. We have a few timely tips for diehard runners.

First, training on pavement or on downhill slopes dramatically increases the impact you sustain - up to eight times your body weight with each step. You should also try to avoid running on grass or sand, no matter how romantic it looked in "Chariots of Fire," the unevenness of these surfaces stresses feet and legs. Finally, think of your running shoes as carrying a 6-month or 300-mile warranty and trade them in at this point for a newer model.

If maintaining your health and reducing stress is important to you, call Round Lake Beach Chiropractic at 847-740-2800 to make an initial, no obligation consultation with Dr. Scott G. Reiser. Our clinic is located at 314 Rollins Road, Round Lake Beach (Eagle Creek Plaza - corner of Cedar Lake and Rollins Roads.)

Lassie, go home

Our girls have been relentless in their appeal for a dog. So far their pleas have fallen on mom's deaf ears. Well, they thought their prayers had been answered when one morning a Dalmatian showed up at our house and made himself at home. The girls immediately wanted to keep him. Mom, on the other hand, had a very different opinion. As night was falling, and there was still no response from any of the agencies we notified, mom had a tinge of sympathy for "Chuck."

Now I am not a totally uncompassionate soul, so I agreed to let our spotted friend sleep in the garage that night. Cheers went up and "Chuck" was fed ham sandwiches and hot dogs—we were not prepared for this canine guest. Although we keep a well stocked pantry, dog food and doggy snacks are not something we keep around for impromptu parties. But, of course, they story does not end there.

As I was getting ready for bed, I thought I could hear our youngest giggling, "he's on my bed." Knowing full well there are no "he's" in the Pringle household except the Mr. I had a sneaking suspicion I was not going to be happy with what I saw as I ventured into the newly redecorated bedroom of this particular daughter. Did I mention a pale pink comforter adorns her bed—a brand new, just-cut-the-tags-off comforter? Lo and behold our Dalmatian buddy had made his way upstairs and was settling in for the night on my recent purchase. Who had let him in seemed pointless at this point. I bellowed "Get that dog off that bed," and he, if nobody else, got my point. With that he headed straight for our bedroom and by the time I got there, he had already made several passes in his tight circle on our dark green comforter.

Did I mention this was a white dog? A shedding white dog? One I didn't want in the house in the first place? In the end, I lost the argument, but I won the battle. The dog slept inside but on the floor downstairs.

Still not the end of the story though, morning broke with a nasty storm, rain, lightning, mud, etc. At 5:30 a.m., the youngest decided "Chuck" needed to go outside. He wasn't out three minutes when the raging storm was punctuated with the fragrance of skunk.

I woke from a sound sleep with dread on my brow and knew exactly what had happened even before I heard the "mom is gonna be mad" phrase drift upstairs from some nervous young ladies. As I was running down the stairs, "Chuck" was being ushered in the back door, a very wet, muddy and overwhelmingly smelly "Chuck." I have compassion for animals, really I do, but my limit had been reached. Any shred of me relinquishing my "no dog" rule had just been shot out of the water. I now faced the task of having to wash a totally strange dog in tomato juice, a very large strange dog. The dog was back in the garage to stay.

End of story, argument and battle. And the next time the kids or hubby starts whining about a dog, you can be darn sure I will wave this story under their noses, along with a small bottle of skunk scent to jog their memory.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle" issued this afternoon.

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Splish splashin' summer sports in Lake County

Lake County is known for its summer events and warm-weather sports. Boating, fishing, and swimming seem to be at the top of everybody's list these days, and the area is packed with places to go enjoy these water sports.

One of the greatest sports, summer or not, is swimming, and Lake County residents have a number of outlets to indulge themselves with fun in the pool or tone muscles by doing laps or competing in races.

The younger swimmers are out in full force this summer as well, with the Antioch Waves, Round Lake Ducks, Gurnee Stingrays and Wildcat Swim Club all offering competitive swimming for all skill levels.

With temperatures on the rise, I encourage everyone to spend some time in the water, whether in competition or just getting a break from the heat, whether in a pool or in one of the many lakes—water sports can be fun and provide a much needed cool-down.

The Second Annual "Angels in the Fairway" golf outing will be held Wednesday, August 5 at Midlane Golf Club in Wadsworth. The golf outing is presented by F.H. Paschen Company and sponsored by WCKG/105.9.

Proceeds will benefit the Evanston-based Leukemia Research Foundation. Individual and corporate foursomes are available for the shotgun starters. The golf outing will include prizes, raffles, and a silent auction. Last year's event attracted 400 golfers and raised $106,000 for leukemia research.

To register or for more information, please call 808-1885.

There will be ice again in Zion this summer. The Zion Summer Hockey School is offering 10 sessions of on-ice instruction and scrimmage games Monday through Friday, July 13-24.

Hockey enthusiasts can get into three ability groups: Advanced Beginner (can skate backward and have some hockey experience); Intermediate; and Advanced.

Hockey players are put into groups according to ability. The hockey school will be held at the Zion ice arena. For more information, or to register, call Dave Lee at 662-9240.

Warren Township High School graduate Brooke Kaiser, was named to the Southeastern Louisiana University Lady Lions volleyball team as a freshman for the 1998-99 season. The Lady Lions start the season Sept. 4 at the Florida State Tournament in Tallahassee, Fla.

Schultz keeps mind focused

Driver keeps eyes on the road

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

George Schultz has his designs on a career in the NASCAR racing circuit.

For now, the Warren Township High School graduate is pleased with a family effort in the Championship Off-Road Racing (CORR) series. He finished third in his first race of the season, he came back from a 14th place start to finish third.

"I race on tracks five-eighths of a mile to two miles long. I prefer the mid-size tracks," said Schultz.

The course in Crandon, Wis. was 1.7 miles long.

Schultz, 20, has a new sponsor this year in The Orleans Hotel & Casino of Las Vegas; also Goodyear Tire, Gurnee Transmission, Brad's Printing and Auto Meter Gauges.

Tesa Schultz ran the radios while his father did the spotting and mom videotaped and cheered from the stands. Tesa may go solo as a driver later this season.

"I remember when my Mom and Dad were racing and I would go to their races in diapers and play with my matchbox cars. In 1992, I rode with my Dad, in 1993 we got a new truck and in 1994 we took the seat out and I raced two races. In 1995, I was rookie-of-the-year," he said.

Last year's most memorable race was a third place finish in Michigan. "I held off the points champion for 1 1/5 laps, nose to tail," he said.

There is much to overcome on any given race day, including a week-end race in Crandon, Wis. for the 20-year-old driver from Park City.

"The landrush start was less than expected as we rounded the first turn in 13th. On the second lap, the electric roll-off system on my helmet ran out of film as a result of following traffic. By the fourth lap, I worked my way around vehicles and into fifth place," described Schultz.

Halfway through the race, a rock came up through the engine compartment and broke a spark plug wire. The park ran a sizable part of the race on seven cylinders.

"I was just happy it didn't take anything else out," said Schultz.

Professional drivers Robby Gordon and Jimmie Johnson are Schultz's heroes.

"Johnson is on the ASA circuit and is doing exactly what I want to do," said Schultz.

Schultz, a junior at Marquette University in Milwaukee, missed the first two races of the season due to school work. He works for Snap-On Tools of Kenosha, Wis. in a co-op program.

"I always wanted to get a job which is motor sports related," said Schultz.

The sport can be an expensive one, with $15,000 to $20,000 a year cost.

"It is the upkeep. Knock on wood, nothing has been broken," said Schultz.

His travels this summer will take him to tracks in Joliet, Oshkosh and Davenport, Iowa.

Grayslake runner wins age group at Freedom Run

Antioch was a stop on the training schedule for Jamie Reiland and Mark Egle, two age-group road race winners who are heading in different directions.

Egle was the overall winner of the Fourth of July 5K race run in nearly perfect running weather. His time was 15:40.

"It was real humid. My goal was to get 15:33. This was my first time on the course. It is a pretty tough course," said Egle.

Egle, from Mount Prospect, came to Antioch's race because he wished to spend the Fourth of July weekend on a nearby lake. He warmed up for the race by painting a house the day before.

Egle, age 34, is a graduate of Maine East High. He ran the mile in track for Illinois State University.

Jamie Reiland, a senior this fall at Grayslake High, won her age group in 20:45. Her father, Tom, and older sister, Joanne, also competed.

"We started off the race racing together," said Jamie.

Reiland will prepare for the fall cross country season by competing in Australia. Her trip is sponsored by World Sport Exchange.

"I have not really started to train, because basketball camp has just ended. I will begin to build up my miles," said Reiland.

Her older sister, Joanne, plans to attend the University of Iowa this fall, majoring in pharmacy. The two have been competing in running since they were toddlers.

Tera Roy-Buesing was the women's overall winner, in 19 minutes.

"The last mile was tough because it is gradually uphill," said Buesing.

Buesing teaches at Bradford High in Kenosha. She ran for University of Wisconsin-Parkside in her collegiate days.

Antioch residents Joanne Lezeau and Pat Davis were back in the walking segment.

"We have participated each year they have offered it. It is fun to walk with a companion," said Lezeau.

Turning heads was 10-year old Lea Coleman of Huntley, Ill. She finished second overall for the women and won her division with a 20:10.

"She has been running for 1 1/2 years. She has the God-given ability," said Connie Coleman, her mom.

Hundreds participated in the event, which concluded in downtown Antioch.

Other age group 5K winners:
For age 20-29 females, Julia Miller, 20:15;

For age 30-39 females, Tina McDonie, 20:41;

For 40-49 Females: Shelly Hazel, 22:16;

For age 50-59 females: Jeannine

Kasprowicz, 26:22;

For age 60 plus females, Audrey Palaske, 39:26;

For males, age 14 and over, Jimmy Centella, 19:13;

For males, age 15-19, Ryan Hauser, 16:45;

For males, age 20-29, Dan Crocker, 16:02;

For males, age 30-39: Dave Bornhletter, 17:01;

For males, age 50-59, Dean Benman, 19:29;

Gurnee-Antioch legion squad seeks complete effort

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Jake Hanson's collegiate future appeared bright.

Before he stepped to the plate, swung, hit a home run but was left wining in pain early in a Warren-Round Lake game.

He would not return to the Warren lineup until the waning weeks of the regular season. He did so in time to help the Blue Devils gain their first regional title in 25 years.

"Early on, he played outfield for us. We moved him to first base to help him get healthy," said Gurnee American Legion coach Rick Hill.

Hanson, batting fifth, reached base three times on an error, single and double in a 3-2 loss to Northbrook at Waukegan's tournament.

Gurnee Post 771 could not take advantage of four Northbrook errors

Saturday. Gurnee managed five hits off Northbrook pitching.

"You can't expect to beat good teams without a complete effort," said Hill.

Chris Groth, the Gurnee team's leading hitter with a .500 batting average, singled and scored for Gurnee in the first and fifth innings. The tying run was thrown out at home on Hanson's double. Another missed chance came in the sixth inning with two runners on base but no runs scored.

Hanson was 2-3 with a home run; Jon Savage was 2-3; George Fuchs had a 2-3 game; lead-off man Tim Zorich was 2-3 with three RBI; Lance Johnson 2-4 with 3 RBI; Groth 3-3 with three RBI and a home run; Brett Hill was 2-3 and Hughes was 1-3 with two RBI and a homer.

Gurnee beat Mundelein 5-4 but lost to Rolling Meadows 10-2 in other tournament games.

Lassie, go home

Our girls have been relentless in their appeal for a dog. So far their pleas have fallen on mom's deaf ears. Well, they thought their prayers had been answered when one morning a Dalmatian showed up at our house and made himself at home. The girls immediately wanted to keep him. Mom, on the other hand, had a very different opinion. As night was falling, and there was still no response from any of the agencies we notified, mom had a tinge of sympathy for "Chuck."

Now I am not a totally uncompassionate soul, so I agreed to let our spotted friend sleep in the garage that night. Cheers went up and "Chuck" was fed ham sandwiches and hot dogs—we were not prepared for this canine guest. Although we keep a well stocked pantry, dog food and doggy snacks are not something we keep around for impromptu parties. But, of course, they story does not end there.

As I was getting ready for bed, I though I could hear our youngest giggling, "he's on my bed." Knowing full well there are no "he's" in the Pringle household except the Mr. I had a sneaking suspicion I was not going to be happy with what I saw as I ventured into the newly redecorated bedroom of this particular daughter. Did I mention a pale pink comforter adorns her bed—a brand new, just-cut-the-tags-off comforter? Lo and behold our Dalmatian buddy had made his way upstairs and was settling in for the night on my recent purchase. Who had let him in seemed pointless at this point. I bellowed "Get that dog off that bed," and he, if nobody else, got my point. With that he headed straight for our bedroom and by the time I got there, he had already made several passes in his tight circle on our dark green comforter.

Did I mention this was a white dog? A shedding white dog? One I didn't want in the house in the first place? In the end, I lost the argument, but I won the battle. The dog slept inside but on the floor downstairs.

Still not the end of the story though, morning broke with a nasty storm, rain, lightening, mud, etc. At 5:30 a.m., the youngest decided "Chuck" needed to go outside. He wasn't out three minutes when the raging storm was punctuated with the fragrance of skunk.

I woke from a sound sleep with dread on my brow and knew exactly what had happened even before I heard the "mom is gonna be mad" phrase drift upstairs from some nervous young ladies. As I was running down the stairs, "Chuck" was being ushered in the back door, a very wet, muddy and overwhelmingly smelly "Chuck." I have compassion for animals, really I do, but my limit had been reached. Any shred of me relinquishing my "no dog" rule had just been shot out of the water. I now faced the task of having to wash a totally strange dog in tomato juice, a very large strange dog. The dog was back in the garage to stay.

End of story, argument and battle. And the next time the kids or hubby starts whining about a dog, you can be dam sure I will wave this story under their noses, along with a small bottle of skunk scent to jog their memory.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

STILL JOGGING AFTER ALL THESE YEARS

In the last few years, a number of new and exotic exercises have appeared - roller-blading, bench-stepping, pool dancing, rap-er-clze, and indoor rock climbing. What most of these have in common is the rapidity with which they fall in and out of favor. In spite of injuries, boredom and disillusion for some, jogging remains the exercise of choice for a majority of people who are regularly active. We have a few timely tips for diehard runners.

First, training on pavement or on downhill slopes dramatically increases the impact you sustain - up to eight times your body weight with each step. You should also try to avoid running on grass or sand, no matter how romantic it looked in "Chariots of Fire," the unevenness of these surfaces stresses feet and legs. Finally, think of your running shoes as carrying a 6-month or 300-mile warranty and trade them in at this point for a newer model.

If maintaining your health and reducing stress is important to you, call Round Lake Beach Chiropractic at 847-740-2800 to make an initial, no obligation consultation with Dr. Scott G. Reiser. Our clinic is located at 314 Rollins Road, Round Lake Beach (Eagle Creek Plaza - corner of Cedar Lake and Rollins Roads.)

Splish splashin' summer sports in Lake County

Lake County is known for its summer events and warm-weather sports. Boating, fishing, and swimming seem to be at the top of everybody's list these days, and the area is packed with places to go enjoy these water sports.

One of the greatest sports, summer or not, is swimming, and Lake County residents have a number of outlets to indulge themselves with fun in the pool or tone muscles by doing laps or competing in races.

The younger swimmers are out in full force this summer as well, with the Antioch Waves, Round Lake Ducks, Gurnee Stingrays and Wildcat Swim Club all offering competitive swimming for all skill levels.

With temperatures on the rise, I encourage everyone to spend some time in the water, whether in competition or just getting a break from the heat, whether in a pool or in one of the many lakes—water sports can be fun and provide a much needed cool-down.

The Second Annual "Angels in the Fairway" golf outing will be held Wednesday, August 5 at Midlane Golf Club in Wadsworth. The golf outing is presented by F.H. Paschen Company and sponsored by WCKG/105.9.

Proceeds will benefit the Evanston-based Leukemia Research Foundation. Individual and corporate foursomes are available for the shotgun starters. The golf outing will include prizes, raffles, and a silent auction. Last year's event attracted 400 golfers and raised $106,000 for leukemia research.

To register or for more information, please call 808-1885.

There will be ice again in Zion this summer. The Zion Summer Hockey School is offering 10 sessions of on-ice instruction and scrimmage games Monday through Friday, July 13-24.

Hockey enthusiasts can get into three ability groups: Advanced Beginner (can skate backward and have some hockey experience); Intermediate; and Advanced.

Hockey players are put into groups according to ability. The hockey school will be held at the Zion ice arena. For more information, or to register, call Dave Lee at 662-9240.

Warren Township High School graduate Brooke Kalser, was named to the Southeastern Louisiana University Lady Lions volleyball team as a freshman for the 1998-99 season. The Lady Lions start the season Sept. 4 at the Florida State Tournament in Tallahassee, Fla.

Schultz keeps mind focused

Driver keeps eyes on the road

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

George Schultz has his designs on a career in the NASCAR racing circuit.

For now, the Warren Township High School graduate is pleased with a family effort in the Championship Off-Road Racing (CORR) series. He finished third in his first race of the season, he came back from a 14th place start to finish third.

"I race on tracks five-eighths of a mile to two miles long. I prefer the mid-size tracks," said Schultz.

The course in Crandon, Wis. was 1.7 miles long.

Schultz, 20, has a new sponsor this year in The Orleans Hotel & Casino of Las Vegas; also Goodyear Tire, Gurnee Transmission, Brad's Printing and Auto Meter Gauges.

Tesa Schultz ran the radios while his father did the spotting and mom videotaped and cheered from the stands. Tesa may go solo as a driver later this season.

"I remember when my Mom and Dad were racing and I would go to their races in diapers and play with my matchbox cars. In 1992, I rode with my Dad, in 1993 we got a new truck and in 1994 we took the seat out and I raced two races. In 1995, I was rookie-of-the-year," he said.

Last year's most memorable race was a third place finish in Michigan. "I held off the points champion for 1 1/5 laps, nose to tail," he said.

There is much to overcome on any given race day, including a weekend race in Crandon, Wis. for the 20-year-old driver from Park City.

"The landrush start was less than expected as we rounded the first turn in 13th. On the second lap, the electric roll-off system on my helmet ran out of film as a result of following traffic. By the fourth lap, I worked my way around vehicles and into fifth place," described Schultz.

Halfway through the race, a rock came up through the engine compartment and broke a spark plug wire. The park ran a sizable part of the race on seven cylinders.

"I was just happy it didn't take anything else out," said Schultz.

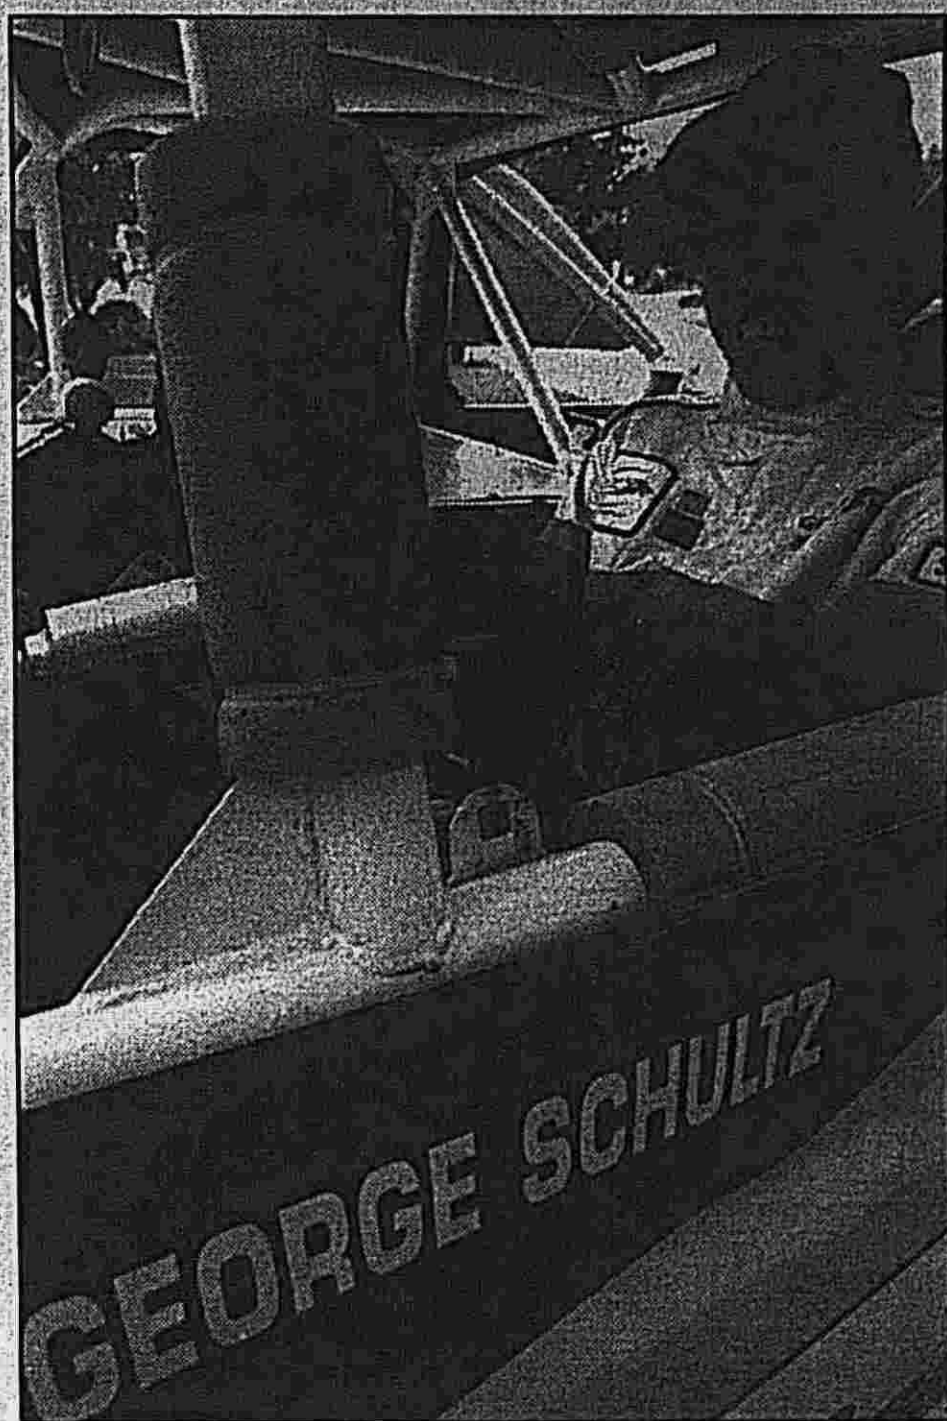

Professional drivers Robby Gordon and Jimmie Johnson are Schultz's heroes.

"Johnson is on the ASA circuit and is doing exactly what I want to do," said Schultz.

Schultz, a junior at Marquette University in Milwaukee, missed the first two races of the season due to school work. He works for Snap-On Tools of Kenosha, Wis. in a co-op program.

"I always wanted to get a job which is motor sports related," said Schultz.

The sport can be an expensive one, with $15,000 to $20,000 a year cost.

"It is the upkeep. Knock on wood, nothing has been broken," said Schultz.

His travels this summer will take him to tracks in Joliet, Oshkosh and Davenport, Iowa.

Grayslake runner wins age group at Freedom Run

Antioch was a stop on the training schedule for Jamie Reiland and Mark Egle, two age-group road race winners who are heading in different directions.

Egle was the overall winner of the Fourth of July 5K race run in nearly perfect running weather. His time was 15:40.

"It was real humid. My goal was to get 15:33. This was my first time on the course. It is a pretty tough course," said Egle.

Egle, from Mount Prospect, came to Antioch's race because he wished to spend the Fourth of July weekend on a nearby lake. He warmed up for the race by painting a house the day before.

Egle, age 34, is a graduate of Maine East High. He ran the mile in track for Illinois State University.

Jamie Reiland, a senior this fall at Grayslake High, won her age group in 20:45. Her father, Tom, and older sister, Joanne, also competed.

"We started off the race racing together," said Jamie.

Reiland will prepare for the fall cross country season by competing in Australia. Her trip is sponsored by World Sport Exchange.

"I have not really started to train, because basketball camp has just ended. I will begin to build up my miles," said Reiland.

Her older sister, Joanne, plans to attend the University of Iowa this fall, majoring in pharmacy. The two have been competing in running since they were toddlers.

Tera Roy-Buesing was the women's overall winner, in 19 minutes.

"The last mile was tough because it is gradually uphill," said Buesing.

Buesing teaches at Bradford High in Kenosha. She ran for University of Wisconsin-Parkside in her collegiate days.

Antioch residents Joanne Lezeau and Pat Davis were back in the walking segment.

"We have participated each year they have offered it. It is fun to walk with a companion," said Lezeau.

Turning heads was 10-year old Lea Coleman of Huntley, Ill. She finished second overall for the women and won her division with a 20:10.

"She has been running for 1 1/2 years. She has the God-given ability," said Connie Coleman, her mom.

Hundreds participated in the event, which concluded in downtown Antioch.

Other age group 5K winners:

For age 20-29 females, Julia

Miller, 20:15;

For age 30-39 females, Tina Mc-

Donie, 20:41;

For 40-49 Females: Shelly Hazel,

Gurnee-Antioch legion squad seeks complete effort

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Jake Hanson's collegiate future appeared bright.

Before he stepped to the plate, swung, hit a home run but was left wining in pain early in a Warren-Round Lake game.

He would not return to the Warren lineup until the waning weeks of the regular season. He did so in time to help the Blue Devils gain their first regional title in 25 years.

"Early on, he played outfield for us. We moved him to first base to help him get healthy," said Gurnee American Legion coach Rick Hill.

Hanson, batting fifth, reached base three times on an error, single and double in a 3-2 loss to Northbrook at Waukegan's tournament.

Gurnee Post 771 could not take advantage of four Northbrook errors

Saturday. Gurnee managed five hits off Northbrook pitching.

"You can't expect to beat good teams without a complete effort," said Hill.

Chris Groth, the Gurnee team's leading hitter with a .500 batting average, singled and scored for Gurnee in the first and fifth innings. The tying run was thrown out at home on Hanson's double. Another missed chance came in the sixth inning with two runners on base but no runs scored.

Hanson was 2-3 with a home run; Jon Savage was 2-3; George Fuchs had a 2-3 game; lead-off man Tim Zorich was 2-3 with three RBI; Lance Johnson 2-4 with 3 RBI; Groth 3-3 with three RBI and a home run; Brett Hill was 2-3 and Hughes was 1-3 with two RBI and a homer.

Gurnee beat Mundelein 5-4 but lost to Rolling Meadows 10-2 in other tournament games.

U-9 Lindenhurst Dynamo are Bronze Division champs

When the Lindenhurst Dynamo U-9 boys posted a 10 win and 0 loss record in the blue division of the NISL last October, they were moved up three levels to the Bronze Division. The entire team knew the level of competition would be a lot harder but looked forward to the challenge.

On June 28, the U-9 boys remained undefeated in the spring league as they handed the Downers Grove Roadrunners their second loss of season by the score of 2-0.

The first score came late into the first quarter as sweeper (Matthew Reimer) trapped the ball and passed it to midfielder (Sean Hertz) who took it down the field and dished it off to left forward (Brett McKenzie) for the score. Forwards (Aaron Nichols and Jeremy Pohlman) worked extremely hard moving the ball down the outside of the field and crossing it over to midfielders (Andy Shultz and Marek Smith) who continually hustled up and down the field trapping, passing and shooting.

One of the keys to the Dynamo success this season has been the dynamic defense consisting of Vivek Gollapudi, Peter Niles, John Werchek along with sweeper Matthew Reimer.

Together they recorded their second shutout of the spring season while goalies (Christopher Meyer, Marek Smith and Brett McKinize) only had to touch the ball a combined total of eight times.

Sean Hertz scored the only other goal of the game with a pass coming from left forward Brett McKenzie as the U-9 boys captured 1st place in the Bronze Division with a very impressive record of 9 wins, 0 losses and 1 tie.

The Dynamo parents and players would like to thank their coaches (Jeff Smith, Jon Hertz and Jerry Nichols) for a fantastic season.

Congratulations to champions of Bronze Division of the NISL.

'Fishing Should Be Fun' coming to Round Lake

The Competition Bassmasters of Northern Illinois are bringing the Second Annual Fishing Should Be Fun fishing safety seminar to Round Lake Beach Park Saturday, July 18.

The event, sponsored by the Village of Round Lake Beach and the Round Lake Park District, will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end around 2:00 p.m.

The event is centered around kids and will feature a fishing safety seminar, bass boat rides, a fishing derby, the Illinois B.A.S.S. Federation Casting Kids Contest and prizes.

Jay Eriksen, president of the Competition Bassmasters of Northern Illinois, said that his organization enjoyed last year's event, and that helping kids learn about fishing is fun for everyone involved.

"We're a group of guys who are serious fishermen," said Eriksen. "We're not a big club—we've got about 15 guys—but we wanted to do something for the kids."

"Last year we had such success in Round Lake, that we wanted to do it again."

The event is free and bait will be supplied to all participants, but kids should bring their own live release bucket.

Fishing Should Be Fun will be a "fun for the whole family" event, and will receive coverage in Lakeland Newspapers' 11 editions—including photos.

For more information, or register for the event, call the Round Lake Park District at 546-8558.

PRIVATE
MORTGAGE INSURANCE

On a down payment of less than 20 percent of a home's cost, the lender will probably require the buyer to purchase private mortgage insurance ("PMI"). The insurance will cost about 1 percent of the loan amount if your down payment is less than 10 percent and 1/2 percent of the loan if the down payment is between 10 and 20 percent. This coverage can be paid for in one payment at the closing, or through an additional charge on each mortgage payment until the loan balance is less than 80 percent of the value of your home.

Your mortgage application must be approved by both the lender and the PMI company. If you are only marginally qualified, the approval of your loan could be delayed or even denied. Discuss PMI costs with each lender you contact. Comparison shopping may save you money!

Chicago man drowns in Fox Lake aiding wife

By LEE FILAS
Staff Reporter

A holiday trip on Fox Lake turned deadly as one man drowned while attempting to swim to the aid of his wife during the Fourth of July festivities on Saturday.

According to the Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, Kenneth Ryan, 40, of 3125 W. Bertile Road in Chicago, was pronounced dead on the scene as he was pulled from the lake at 7:30 a.m. on Sunday morning.

According to Ted Beskow of the Fox Lake Fire Department, Ryan and a friend jumped into Fox Lake in an attempt to stop Ryan's wife from drifting too far from the speedboat they were in.

Ryan's wife was in the lake cooling off on the hot day. It was also reported that she was wearing a life preserver at the time of the incident and the current started to pull her too far from the boat. She called for help, at which time Ryan and his friend jumped in to pull her back.

The friend and the wife arrived at the boat and climbed in, turned around and did not see Ryan. They called the emergency number directly from a cellular phone on the boat.

The Fox Lake Dive Team responded to the call at 7:47 p.m. in the evening, calling for assistance from eight other municipalities.

"Round Lake, Lake Villa, Grayslake, Spring Grove, McHenry and Antioch all responded to the call," Beskow continued. "We called off the search at 10:50 p.m."

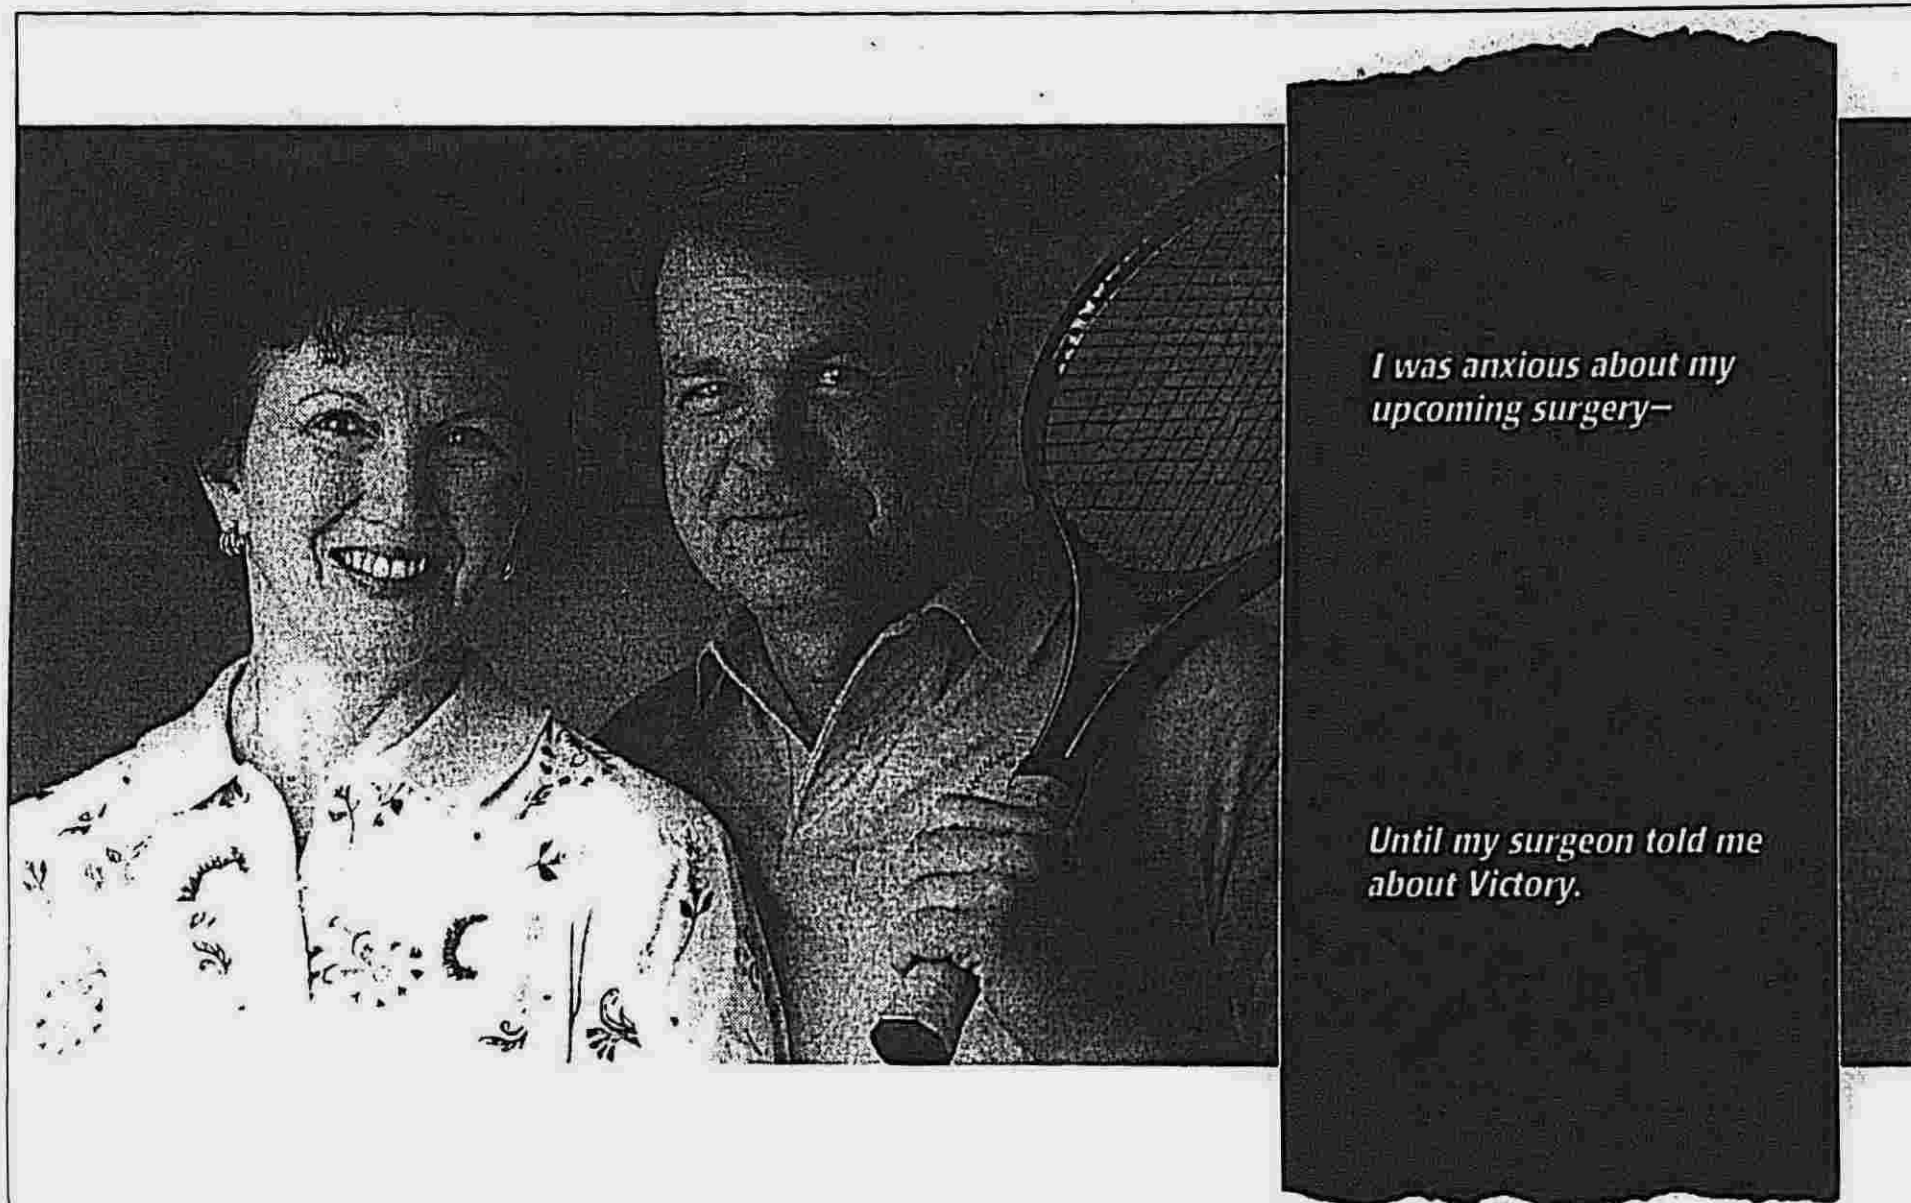

The search was called off due to the extremely high amount of boat traffic on the lake watching the Fox Lake Fireworks show.

The search was resumed at 6 a.m., with the body of Ryan being discovered at 7:30 a.m.

According to an autopsy performed by the coroner's office, the cause of death was drowning. It is believed by the authorities involved that due to the high amount of boats, the lake was choppy, which could have dragged him under.

The coroner's office is still investigating the death.

This is the third boating casualty in Lake County this summer. A Lake Villa teen was killed on Long Lake in May during a canoe accident, while an Ingleside man was killed on Brandenburg Lake during a fireworks accident in June.

I was anxious about my upcoming surgery—

Until my surgeon told me about Victory.

Outpatient Surgery— The Victory Difference

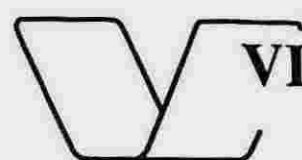

I'd never had surgery, so of course I was nervous. I really didn't know what to expect. But, my surgeon said I'd be very happy with the way they would treat me at Victory. He told me their same-day surgery department is the best he's worked with. The nurses are well-trained and extremely supportive. And, they're always ready to give patients a little extra hand-holding, a warm blanket and a reassuring smile.

My surgeon said he also appreciates the up-to-date equipment at Victory and the way everyone in the department works together. Then, he loaned us a video that explained about surgery at Victory in more detail.

My surgeon was right! From the very beginning everything went smoothly. I was pleased my family could be with me right up until I went into the operating room. And, when my surgery took a little longer than expected, the surgical nurse let my family know.

Advanced technology, dedicated nurses and an uncompromising commitment to patient satisfaction—that's why so many experienced Lake County surgeons have preferred Victory. You will, too.

Choose Victory. You'll recognize the difference.

So you put on that bathing suit and you realized it doesn't quite fit like last year. You are ready to lose a few pounds. But how will you get started and will you stick to it? It all begins with just one step. People who are older, obese or not physically fit can obtain good results with low-impact, light-intensity or moderate exercise done with greater frequency at a longer duration, according to Michael Pollock, PhD, director Center for Exercise Science at the University of Florida. Pollock stresses the need for a well-rounded program with a minimum standard attainable by everyone.

The YMCA is one of the largest health and fitness providers in the country. Its programs are affordable and community based. The trained staff understands how to encourage people of all ages regardless of their ability, helping them achieve a good fitness level.

The level of intensity and time commitment involved are the main reasons people stop exercising. The solution for people to maintain a program is letting them choose activities they enjoy. To improve aerobic capacity and achieve weight loss, working out at least three days a week is necessary. It's important to exercise consistently. More does not necessarily mean better, and you should rest a day between workouts. The quantity and quality of exercise needed to attain health-related benefits may differ from what is recommended for fitness benefits. Recent studies indicate that just doing some moderate physical activity will bring health benefits and help prolong your life.

The Lake county Family YMCA understands that people need to feel comfortable about their exercise program in order to stay with it. For example, for those intimidated by high-tech equipment and high-impact aerobics, the YMCA offers a variety of water exercise programs for adults. Water exercise classes offer an excellent total body workout while providing protection from muscle, bone and joint stiffness. It's a great place to start your new exercise program.

If you are interested in beginning a new fitness program in an encouraging atmosphere, contact the Lake County Family YMCA at 360-9622 on how to begin.

T.J. and Big Brother Don Moore review homework lessons during a weekly meeting. Moore, 60, has been active in the Big Brothers/Big

Sisters mentoring program since 1980 and has been Big Brother to three children.— Photo courtesy of Abbott Labs

'You're on my family tree. You're my brother'

He's my brother

Big Brothers/Big Sisters program creates life-long bonds

By LESLIE PIOTROWSKI
Staff Reporter

TJ. is a fatherless 8-year-old in Waukegan. Don Moore is a semi-retired executive in Lake Bluff. While these two would seemingly have little in common, they share a common bond. Moore is T.J.'s 'big brother' in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County program.

Located in Gurnee, Big Brothers/Big Sisters has been matching children from one-parent homes with caring adult volunteers for more than 15 years. The organization maintains that such one-to-one relationships have a beneficial effect on the growth and development of children.

Moore has volunteered with the organization since 1980. He began as a board member and decided to become a big brother in 1985. Since then, he has been the big brother of three children: James, from 1985 to 1989; Darrell, from 1989 to 1997; and now T.J.

He is a firm believer in the program. "I got involved because of the program's philosophy to give children a positive role model," he said. "These children have potential, but they live in homes where the father is absent. The mother usually works and has little time to give her children the attention they need."

T.J.'s mother, for example, works long hours at a hot dog stand on Route 45. His grandmother lives with them, but is blind. "T.J. knows how to play tricks on his grandmother so it's a challenge to watch him," said Moore.

Moore meets with T.J. at least once a week. They spend much of their time together engaged in physical activities, such as swimming at the North Point Marina Beach.

"It's fun," said T.J., who will enter third grade at Cook Magnet School in the fall. "We go to the beach, play pool, go bowling. We do fun things and I like him."

They are planning a camping trip to the Indiana Dunes. "I've never camped before, but I'm not scared," T.J. said. "I've seen raccoons and possums and deer before."

In addition to his visits with Moore, T.J. practices the violin for one or two hours every day. "My favorite musician is Mozart," he said.

While they started off as complete strangers, it is clear that T.J. and Moore are now good friends.

T.J. recently told Moore: "You're on my family tree. You're my brother."

But the relationship is not one-sided. Moore also benefits from his weekly meetings with T.J. "I'm almost 60," said Moore. "So (the relationship) keeps me young and in touch with what kids are doing today."

Moore even continues to see his former little brother, Darrell, whom he was matched with for nine years. Their relationship formally ended in 1997 when Darrell turned 18, the program's official cut-off age.

"Darrell has such a nice personality," said Moore. "He never got into trouble with the law or with drugs. He never joined a gang. I enjoy being a friend he can call on every once and a while."

The key to the success of the Big Brothers Big Sisters program is in forming long-term trusting relationships between adult volunteers and children. For this reason, the organization spends extensive time helping to ensure that the right matches are formed.

Prospective adult volunteers begin the process by filling out a questionnaire. They also undergo a police check. Once they are approved by a case management director, they are presented with three or four possible little brothers or sisters. The volunteers talk with the children over the phone and go home to meet their families.

Eventually, they are given time alone with the boy or girl to get to know them better. The volunteers also receive training on how to be appropriate mentors and help children work through problems.

Once the volunteer and child are matched, Big Brothers/Big Sisters continues to monitor the relationship through ongoing contact with the volunteer. If problems arise for the little brother or sister, the organization either provides assistance or refers the child to another organization that can be of help.

Moore said that his former little brother had a child out of wedlock, but is getting the support he needs. "He was able to enroll in Big Brothers/Big Sisters' support group for teen parents and that has helped him a lot," he said.

The organization's Teen Parent Services program is offered in collaboration with Goodwill Industries and the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

At any given time there are 140 to 170 teen parents in the program.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters also offers a Big Step Program. In this program, paid mentors spend three to five hours per week with youth referred from Juvenile Court Services and the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Over the years, research has proven that the organization's programs are successful. In 1996, an independent social service research firm released findings of the first major controlled study of mentoring programs.

In the study, 959 youth in Big Brothers/Big Sisters programs were compared with an equal number of youth who met the requirements but were not enrolled in the program.

The study found that little brothers and sisters who met regularly with their adult volunteers were 46 percent less likely to start using illegal drugs and 27 percent less likely to start drinking than their peers. They were also 52 percent less likely than their peers to skip school.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County is one of 510 agencies affiliated with Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America. The agencies as a whole currently oversees approximately 100,000 matches across the country.

As part of their national mission to "put a caring adult in the life of every child in need," they have the goal to double the matches to 200,000 by the year 2000.

Things will calm down by the end of the week, giving you time to relax and enjoy yourself. A close friend introduces you to an interesting person. Make a good impression.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't keep things bottled up inside, Taurus. Turn to loved ones and friends; they are more than willing to listen to you. They want to help. A business associate has a proposition for you. Look at all of the pros and cons before making a decision. Gemini plays a key role late in the week.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Don't let a surprise at work get you down. Roll with the punches, and make the best of the situation. Besides, you'll soon realize that it's not as bad as you think. An old friend calls you out of the blue. Spend time with him or her and catch up on the gossip. It's sure to be worth the time. Leo plays an important role.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

A close friend confides in you. Keep it to yourself. He or she is trusting you to be helpful and supportive. Don't let him or her down. A business associate needs your help with a problem. Do what you can to rectify the situation. Your efforts will be rewarded by the higher-ups.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Take control of a financial situation. If you don't, you're bound to lose a hefty investment. Watch yourself, or your arrogance will scare off the person whom you've been seeing. He or she is special to you, so keep your ego in check. Scorpio plays a key role late in the week.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

A potential outing has you very excited this week, Virgo. Do what you can to make it happen. However, don't be too aggressive or your efforts could work against you. A close friend asks for your opinion. Be honest; don't just say what you think he or she wants to hear.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

A business accomplishment puts you in the spotlight early in the week. Don't be shy. You should be proud of yourself; everyone else is. A loved one involves you in a family dispute. Don't choose sides. Instead, try to make those who are arguing come to an agreement. It won't be easy for you.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Calm, cool and collected — that's what you should strive to be this week, Scorpio. You have a lot going on at work, and a family problem arises. Don't get stressed. If you remain calm, you can work everything out. That special someone takes you out for a night on the town. Enjoy!

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Your optimism will see you through this week, Sagittarius. There's a lot going on. If you look at the bright side of things, you can keep moving ahead. A close friend is in trouble. Help him or her out, but don't get too involved in the problem. There's much more going on than meets the eye. Aquarius plays a key role.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't rebel when a business associate pulls rank. Acting up only will cause you problems. Do your work effectively and efficiently, and you're sure to be rewarded. You run into an old friend at the end of the week. Catch up with him or her. You're sure to discover some interesting things.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Keep your eyes and ears open this week, Aquarius. There's something going on that people aren't telling you about. Try to find out what it is. A loved one needs your help planning a family gathering. While you don't want to help, you know you really should. Don't worry — it will be much more fun than you thought.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Don't be too stubborn to make up with a close friend early in the week. Neither of you really meant to hurt the other. Be the bigger person, and apologize first. An old flame asks you out. Say yes; it's sure to be interesting.

And now for something completely different...

Every once in a while, I have to wake up my readers: HEY, YOU—I'M TALKING TO YOU! The reason I'm doing this is because I assume you must be getting bored reading the same old stuff in this space every week. Humor column, humor column, humor column. Yada, yada, yada.

Which is why this week, I am going to provide you with something completely different. For one week only (OK—maybe two), this space is not a humor column—it is a TRAVEL column!

Go ahead—shout for joy, jump up and down—I know this is more excitement than you're used to! Heck, it's more excitement than I'm used to. (But don't worry—it is probably NOT more excitement than the President is used to.)

In this travel column, I hope to provide you with some useful information (what a switch, huh?) that may come in handy if you are ever lucky enough to accumulate 20,000 "points" on your credit card by regularly spending more money than you have, in which case you will be eligible, as I was, to receive a "free" plane ticket, providing you with the option to travel somewhere farther than the Las Vegas restaurant in beautiful downtown Antioch, Illinois, which, by the way, does not have a single slot machine.

LIFE'S A BEAR

Donna Abear

Note: You may have noticed that the previous paragraph was actually a

"run-on sentence"—I figured since we're breaking the "humor rules" by writing about travel, we might as well forget all that English stuff, too!

Anyway, readers, I've got just one question for you: Are you ready to hop aboard my "verbal bus"?

Well, get off the bus, dummy, we're taking a plane! We're going to the Pacific Northwest and we've only got five days! Sheesh! Apparently, you didn't read last week's column, or you'd know that. (And you wonder why I have to wake you people up.)

Okay, now that we've got that straight, do you have your plane tickets ready? Is your luggage checked? Is that bomb well-concealed in your handbag? Ha, ha, ha—that was a joke. But don't try that joke at home, folks—I'm a professional. And don't try it at the airport, either, or you'll be a professional, too—a professional convict.

Well, I think we've had enough levity, don't you? After all, this is a column with substance (as opposed to "substances" which you should refrain from packing in your luggage unless you want to be a professional convict along with your wise-cracking, bomb-joke telling friends). So, let's get down to business. LET'S TRAVEL!

Wheweee! Are we having fun yet? Have you tasted our meal on the plane? It's some sort of generic trail mix, sized for a squirrel. I'm full of it, how 'bout you?

Uh, oh, Mr. Pilot says we're experiencing some turbulence on our flight. Why don't you look out the window and take your mind off it. See those big, big mountains down there? Don't they remind you of that movie where that soccer team crashed and they got really hungry and...hey, let me finish. I was just going to say they were sure thankful to have a bag of trail mix sized for a squirrel to keep them alive for a few weeks. Ha, ha.

Hey, folks, did you hear that? Mr. Pilot says we're getting ready to land. Don't forget to chew gum, it will help your ears pop. You know, the first time I flew my ears didn't pop and I thought my head was going to explode and that when we landed the flight crew would have to pick up all the pieces and then everyone would know just what's going on inside my head.

And I told them, "...and if you do find out, would somebody at least clue me in?"

NEXT WEEK: We actually get somewhere!

Questions or comments for humorist Donna Abear can be sent to Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney St., Grayslake, IL 60030.

Mom grapples with questions about teen's relationship

Dr. Singer, I'm very concerned about something I found in the trash in my daughter's bedroom while cleaning. I found one of those one-step pregnancy tests.

I about lost my lunch when I found it.

We don't like her boyfriend at all and had no idea they were sexually active. I don't know if I should come down on her or handle it in some other way. She is 17 and very head strong. She's been seeing this guy for about six months or so. Any advice? S.D.

Dear S.D.,

First, I'd suggest that you get help with this. These situations can quickly become explosive and communication can break down leaving everyone with a very bad feeling and the exact opposite results of what everyone wanted!

I'd suggest that you see someone first and get down your plan of action prior to approaching your daughter. I'd be glad to help with this if you'd like.

I just had a situation like this in my office this last week and I will tell you what I told them. First and foremost, you must separate your feelings for this boy she is seeing from the big issues, namely the biological dangers to her. You might hate this boy, but she definitely doesn't and if you focus all of your energy on telling her how bad her love choice is according to your opinion, she will also focus her energy there and you will never get through the important messages here.

To me, the most important things are to make sure your daughter is completely informed of all the potential dangers. The trick is to do this without coming on like a locomotive. Kids today feel very protected when they use "protection" or condoms.

I personally feel that the terms "safe" and "sex" don't belong in the same sentence together. Today I hear it phrased that way all over the place. Since condoms do have an error rate for both disease and pregnancy, the safest form of sex is being permanently committed to each other, older and monogamous. Since teens are not in that type of position the issue needs to be discussed.

So, what are the big issues? Well, first and foremost, I usually take teenagers through the whole concept of HIV and AIDS in a very graphic and specific way.

Everyone knows about AIDS by now. Despite all the efforts at education, kids I meet are still under the impression that you can tell if someone has it by looking at them. They figure if someone is their friend, he or

PARENT'S PLACE

she will not have it because of that friendship. I usually try to help them understand that AIDS is not a disease that picks people. It is a microbiological entity that doesn't care where it ends up, as long as it ends up in the right conditions. I graphically explain to them what happens to someone with the disease and then explain that lately there have been some setbacks with regard to treatments. There has been a treatment resistant strain of AIDS discovered recently.

I also usually go into strong detail about other goodies like Condyloma, Chlamydia, Gonorrhea, Syphilis. Many of these have no cure. Some do, but there are also strains of these diseases which are treatment resistant. Many of these can be chronic or life long. Get some brochures from your doctor or local library so you can show her what you mean.

After talking about the disease aspect, talk about pregnancy. First, ask if she is. Hopefully not. If she is, you'll need to get some ongoing help to help your family work through this.

Many teens associate pregnancy with romance and excitement. That is usually before any pregnancy. After pregnancy, they associate it with missing all of the fun and great options of being young and unattached.

If you can somehow communicate that babies are wonderful when they are born into a situation that can handle them. If they are born into a situation that can't, life feels very miserable. If she argues that she won't get pregnant, she needs to know that the odds are better for younger girls. Also, most teenagers don't plan to get pregnant, but yet, many do. The odds are against her and she is playing Russian Roulette. She needs to know that.

Remember, when you sit down to talk with her, make sure that you don't focus on how much you dislike her boyfriend. She will get defensive and won't hear anything else. Also, if you completely prevent her from seeing him at all, she will rush to him and not let go!

My suggestion to this other family in my office involved suggesting to the kids that they see each other for structured activities and at homes when parents were around. All you are asking them to cut out is the sex, not the relationship. Most of the time, if you are respectful and caring of her feelings, she will hear you and it will make more sense to her. Help her to see the future and all of her options.

Now, obviously, if this guy is committing crimes or hurting people or anything else illegal, you may want to ask that your daughter protect herself from being involved with that. If he is just a kid you don't like, the above stands.

You need her to be making good decisions on her own for herself, not you! She is almost 18 and hopefully you can get through now, before she is an adult. Again, I highly stress that you get in and do this with the help of a therapist. If you want to either do that with me or you want a suggestion of where to go, please call me and I will help you. Just don't launch this at your daughter without first, having a plan and getting rid of your anger and disgust at the boyfriend. Even if you need to go for one session to cool your head off. Do it so you don't cause permanent damage. You want to keep your daughter safe while setting limits, but you don't want to alienate her while doing it.

Disney's First Cruise Ship – What Makes It Different?

by JIM WARNKEN;

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

Last week we reviewed the ways Disney is revolutionizing the cruise industry by offering a whole new way of dining at sea. Today we will talk about some of the many other features exclusive to Disney's ship, "The Magic."

Again, let me remind you that this is Disney's first ship. The Big Red Boat, which several years back did feature Disney Characters, never was owned by Disney.

As you might expect, Disney offers the largest children's area at sea. But Disney goes beyond just size. Little things, like the area set aside for the youngest kids having magnetic walls so they can stick things on them, make a difference. You're also not going to find some college freshman on summer vacation baby-sitting your kid. Disney requires a minimum of a four-year degree for all of its professional youth counselors.

Don't worry if your child gets too involved in his kid stuff. Disney provides parents with beepers to let the kids know it's time to meet Mom and Dad back at the cabin.

If you're not travelling with children, Disney has designed the traffic flow on the Magic in such a way you may not even be aware there are any kids on the ship.

Other ships have sports bars, but at Disney's ESPN sports bar, you can push a button at your table to hear the sound from any of 12 different wall monitors.

You may be able to view the bridge area on other cruise ships by special appointment. The bridge on the Magic is glass enclosed (in fact, it looks a little like a modern disco) and can be viewed from the health club while working out on a stairmaster.

As on other cruise ships, there's the ever-present photographer. However, on the Magic pictures are taken digitally. Copies will be laid out in your cabin at night. If you see any you like, just go to the photo gallery, slide your key through a reader and pull up all the pictures taken of you. You can then press a button to choose a background for your picture. You can even have the picture printed on a T-shirt.

'Mulan' a genuine cartoon heroine

After the advent of such mediocre animated leading ladies as the Hunchback's Esmerelda, Disney Studios has brought us another genuine cartoon heroine in the ## movie review

same vein as the Beast's Belle, the Prince's Cinderella and the Dwarfs' Snow White.

In "Mulan" the newest cartoon classic, we have a delicate Oriental blossom of thousands of years ago with the guts of TV's Zena.

Mulan is an ancient Chinese teenager who chops off her hair and disguises herself as a man in order to take her ailing father's place when a Chinese male from each household is drafted to defend that country against the Hun invasion.

She saves the day when she replaces the power of the brawn she lacks by using her brain and firing a cannon at a snow-covered mountain to cause an avalanche which destroys the enemy army.

While karate-chopping her way through training, she finds herself mesmerized by her Captain whose singing voice has a touch of a little bit of Rock and Roll as delivered by Marie Osmond's erstwhile brother Donny.

Will she return to her village triumphant and win her Captain?

This beautifully executed full length animation is completely stolen by a small red lizard who has been demoted from minor dragon and is now guarding our lovely Asian flower from serious harm.

Not since those two funny fel-as in "The Lion King," the weasel and the bear, have we had a second banana Toon that walks away with the show with ease.

The voice of comedian Eddie Murphy gives the lizard life plus as he delivers funny lines by the dozen in his own peculiar brand of

"jive talk."

A PG-rated flick for children of all ages, "Mulan" is the first real family movie of the summer. Mom and dad can take the kids and enjoy the movie right along with them. We give it five out of five popcorn boxes.

Mulan is a genuine animated cartoon heroine from Disney Studios. This delicate blossom of a girl displays the courage of the bravest soldier when she takes her father's place in the Chinese Hun invasion.

Using herbs and flowers 'Scent-sibly'

Now that the fourth of July has come and gone, summer is in full swing. With July's heat be sure if rainfall is not sufficient that you keep the garden well watered. Make sure all your flower and vegetable beds are well fertilized for the growth spurt this month will bring. As you continue to "dead head" your flower beds, why not dry those petals for potpourri?

For many centuries, stately homes and mansions have used dried flowers and herbs, fragrant woods and essential oils to scent their rooms. I'm sure the aroma of lavender and lemon appeal to your senses. By now, everyone has heard of aromatherapy, which means how the use of scent can affect and alter your mood.

You can reap the benefits from your favorite flowers, herbs and fruits by drying them and mixing your own concoctions for bathing, simmering (to scent your home) and for cosmetic purposes.

Most flowers or herbs have soothing or stimulating properties:

- Rose: Calms tense skin; soothing
- Hibiscus: Cooling, refreshing
- Rosemary: Stimulating, uplifting
- Lavender: Induces rest; relaxing
- Mint: Invigorating, energizing
- Eucalyptus: Refreshing, stimulating

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Market declines are a part of the landscape

(Editor's note: Following is an update of a previous column.)

A reporter once asked basketball player Vernon Maxwell of the Houston Rockets for a brief description of his playing that season. He answered, "Up and down."

Maxwell could have been describing the stock market, as well. The market doesn't always go up. Sometimes, it goes down. Every investor should understand and be willing to accept a certain level of risk, because history shows that the long-term direction of the stock market is up, even when we figure in the most serious periods of decline.

The American Funds Group shared a few facts that might help put market declines in perspective. Since 1900, the stock market has had 107 "moderate corrections" of 10 percent or more, 50 "severe corrections" of 15 percent or more and 29 "bear markets" of 20 percent or more.

It's clear that declines are part of being in the stock market. And, believe it or not, they actually can be beneficial by helping you see how solid your financial program is. They can reveal whether you have a financial plan that will stand the test of time and help you reach long-term goals.

Declines can cause unsettled investors to ask questions such as, "Should I hang in there or wait on the sidelines until it turns around?" But for people who have established a prudent, long-term financial program, market declines are of small concern. Seasoned investors even view them as an opportunity to add to sound investments at a bargain price.

The following chart illustrates the history of stock market declines. It may not alleviate your fear of risk, but remember what the pros say: Like the seasons, market declines are a natural part of the landscape.—By Noah Seidenberg

A History of Declines

This study shows how frequently declines in the Dow Jones Industrial Average have occurred since 1900. As you can see, they are regular events.

Type of decline	Number of times since 1900	Average frequency	Average length	Last time it happened
Moderate (-10% or more)	107	About once a year	109 days	August 1997
Severe (-15% or more)	50	About once every two years	217 days	August 1990
Bear market (-20% or more)	29	About once every three years	364 days	October 1990

Most Americans are on their way toward debt disaster

"Get Completely Out of Debt" is a comprehensive seminar that shows people how to get completely out of debt, how to operate 100% on cash, never using credit again, and how to build retirement wealth with the money they had been wasting a debt payments. It will be held at the Best Inns of America, 1809 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, Tuesday, July 14, at 7 p.m.

Most Americans are one or two paychecks away from insolvency, and in today's economy, being laid off and losing two or more paychecks is an all too frequent occurrence. According to government statistics, 96% of Americans do not achieve financial independence and end up depending on government assistance, charity, family help or they have to keep working till they die.

This seminar will show, step-by-step, how a person can pay-off every penny of their debt (including their home mortgage in about five to seven years, how they can live 100% on cash, and how they can simply and safely build their wealth, so they end up in the 4% who can retire in comfort. The seminar leader is Sherry Mikrut, a certified financial independence seminar leader with Financial Independence Network Ltd., a three-time Inc. 500 corporation. Financial Independence Network Ltd. (FINL) is a international distributor of personal finance books, videos, audio cassettes, newsletters, software as well as personal consultations and seminars.

The average worker in this country earns between one and two million dollars over their working life, and this seminar is designed to help them keep as much of that as possible. Attendees are shown how to make their money, without their having to become Wall Street wizards.

The primary reason why most people and their working life with little to show is that the bulk of the wealth they produced over their lifetime has been methodically and systematically siphoned away from them. Their mortgage company, bank, insurance companies, credit card companies, auto finance companies, governments have all stuck siphon hoses into their ability to produce wealth and have sucked out hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Everyone attending this seminar will leave with a complete, individual debt-elimination plan that will show them how to pay-off their bills... and tell them when they'll be debt-free.

For registration or additional information, contact Sherry Mikrut at 847-740-9178 ext. #1.

Small business owners rate their banking needs

To Chicago's small business owner's, service issues outweigh product issues when selecting a bank, according to a study by Cole Taylor Bank of nearly 300 small business owners in Chicago.

When selecting a bank, the top-ten features small business owners look for in a financial institution are:

1. A financially sound bank (92%)
2. Knowledgeable personnel (89%)
3. Quick turn-around on service and account questions (84%)
4. Competitive fees and interest rates (80%)
5. Clear and concise statements (80%)
6. Courteous service (79%)
7. One department you can call which will handle your day-to-day business transactions quickly (74%)
8. A branch that is close to work or home (68%)
9. One banking officer assigned to your account (64%)
10. Quick turn-around on loan approvals (63%)

"Of the top-ten features, based on importance ratings, only three are related to Bank Products and Delivery Issues," notes Vicky Robertson-Mack, Group Senior Vice President of Marketing at Cole Taylor Bank. These are important findings to banks who are trying to serve this growing and profitable market segment.

In addition to determining the features and services importance ratings, Cole Taylor Bank also studied what types of financial products and services are being used by Chicago's small businesses.

"The most common is obviously a checking account with more than 95% of respondents using this product," notes Robertson-Mack. A revolving line of credit was the second most frequently mentioned service used by 50% of small businesses. "Then there is a notable drop-off with term loans, business credit cards and money market accounts being the most frequently used of the remaining products and services," she adds. Pivotal products for larger companies include cash management and international services.

"Focusing on meeting the most critical needs, as well as providing the product and services used most frequently, Cole Taylor Bank plans to increase its share of business among the more valuable small business market segment," concludes Robertson-Mack.

With a staff of specialized relationship managers for small business, Cole Taylor Bank has experienced significant growth in the small business segment of its business. The purpose of the study was to thoroughly evaluate the banking needs and expectations of this important market.

As Chicagoland's largest privately-owned bank, Cole Taylor has earned a reputation in its nearly 70 years for delivering high quality, personalized service. With $1.9 billion in assets, the bank operates 12 full service banking centers throughout Chicagoland.

Live cell analysis: do you dare?

You'll either love the idea, or will think, "Yuk." Live cell analysis: high-tech health screening. There can be very little middle ground. Once you've decided to see the condition of your blood on a monitor (yes, like being on TV!), you'll be taking a step in the direction of healing.

Jim Jordan, a graduate of Loyola University School of Law, wasn't pleased with the lack of knowledge that doctors had, when confronted with his problem of low energy. Jim, at 25, had a law practice, but was falling asleep in court! He was diagnosed with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, Environmental Illness, and Toxic Metal Poisoning. After going to a holistic doctor and beginning a program of nutrition and exercise, not only did he feel better than at any point in his life, but realized that the law profession was not for him. He is now a nutritional and lifestyle counselor and is completing two additional doctorates: Naturopathy and Natural Healing.

What Jordan does is just as impressive as his education and experience. He takes one drop of blood from your finger. That's all. One drop. It goes immediately to a slide that is put under the microscope. That drop gets magnified 1,000 times on what is called a video-microscope screen. This is when the consultation begins.

A direct inspection and interpretation is next. There are over 50 possible features of the bloodstream, red blood cells, and white blood cells, including signs of microbes (like bacteria, parasites and candida) and toxins, stress and free-radical damage. The analysis also includes the condition of the cardio-vascular system, the immune system, digestive system, and the function of the liver and other glands.

Because you are seeing the actual living state of the conditions inside the body, it is part of the consultation to note nutritional deficiencies and other health conditions.

This affordable analysis offers the benefit of nutritional guidance. Many doctors have given testimonials to this guidance, and to the process that Jordan performs. They have seen an improvement in their patients, by working in tandem with Jordan.

Here are a few examples of what you would see on the screen: fat particles floating in the blood shows that your diet is high in indigestible fat. If you eat more refined sugar than your system can tolerate, blood cells may be clumping together. If you've been exposed to toxins in your environment, you'll see damaged cells. Inactive white blood cells indicate a weak first line of defense. You'll see if you need an increase in oxygen to the cells. Exercise might be suggested. Certain vitamins might be suggested. Digestive enzymes might be suggested. In any case, you can expect to receive valuable information.

Is a picture worth a thousand words? Could be! The recommendations made after analyzing your cells could bring improved health and renewed energy to you.

Anyone interested in having the Live Blood Cell Analysis done should know that is FDA approved. Jordan will be in Libertyville on Tuesday, July 21, and Wednesday, July 22. Call the Best Solution, 367-7320 for an appointment and location information. The test with consultation will take about one hour and fifteen minutes, and will cost $75.

Victory Memorial Hospital previews new technology

A few weeks ago, Victory Memorial Hospital celebrated the near completion of a two-year project with a sneak preview of its new Cardiac Catheterization and Special Procedures Suite. The $1.2 million project is the first of its kind at an area hospital and was partially funded by proceeds from the 1998 Festival of Trees.

The suite combines the resources for two highly technical diagnostic services into one, state-of-the-art facility.

"Recent changes in the technology for cardiac catheterization and angiography have allowed us to design a combination room that meets the needs of cardiology, radiology and vascular medicine," says Lawrence P. Zarian, M.D., board certified radiologist.

Cardiac catheterization is a leading diagnostic tool for identifying blockages in the coronary arteries, valve defects, congenital deformities, abnormal rhythms, muscle damage and other problems in the heart. Angiography is used to detect blockages, clots and aneurysms in the blood vessels that traverse the human body.

At the center of Victory's new Cardiac Catheterization and Special Procedures Suite is the Siemens Angiostar Plus vascular diagnostic and interventional lab. Representing the latest technology available at this time, one advance of the Angiostar Plus over angiography and catheterization equipment is that one unit provides the technology required for both specialty areas.

In addition, diagnostic images are no longer stored on x-ray film. This new technology stores cardiac catheterization images on compact disks (CD). These sharp, full-color CD images make it easier for the physician reviewing images to discern abnormalities.

The three-dimensional images of blood vessels which are viewed during angiography provide physicians with a variety of vantage points for studying a patient's vascular system. Vascular study images are then digitally transmitted and printed on a high-quality laser printer to provide sharp, well-defined images for the physician's interpretation.

With the high quality of images provided by this new technology, the likelihood of a patient requiring multiple injections of contrast dye is greatly reduced because a variety of images can be obtained in a much quicker time period. The new technology also offers alternatives for patients who are known to have a sensitivity to contrast dyes. For those individuals, images can be visualized through the use of carbon dioxide gas.

Victory's new Cardiac Catheterization and Special Procedures Suite will be opening soon. The suite will be used for a variety of procedures including peripheral vascular studies, cardiac catheterizations, nerve blocks, and peripheral angiographies. For more information, call Mary Witte, manager of Diagnostic Services, at 360-4185.

Lake Forest Hospital buys Linear Accelerator for advanced treatment of cancer

Lake Forest Hospital recently purchased the most technologically advanced piece of radiation equipment on the market—the PRIMUS medical linear accelerator—and will be the only facility in Lake county to offer this technology.

"This purchase represents a significant investment in the communities we serve. Lake Forest Hospital will now have the most technologically advanced radiation equipment in Lake county allowing us to treat all types of cancers while greatly reducing the risk of treatment," noted Joseph Imperato, M.D. radiation oncologist for Lake Forest Hospital. "It will deliver radiation to the tumor in the most sophisticated way possible. The new simulator and treatment planning computer will help us map out the area to be treated with great accuracy."

Used in the treatment of various forms of cancer, this system is highly compact and offers a wide variety of energy ranges. Unlike older systems that delivered high energy treatments and required modular assemblies, this technology is fully integrated into one structure. The PRIMUS model is the most compact medical linear accelerator providing the widest photon energy range.

TIPS ON PROPER USE AND CARE OF MUSCLES

• BUILDING AND MAINTAINING MUSCLE MASS

is important. Since muscle mass and strength decline with age, it is important to maintain both, and thus retain the ability to engage in whatever activities we choose. Maintenance requires exercise—challenging muscles by increasing resistance or repetitions.

• AEROBIC EXERCISE AND STRENGTH TRAINING ARE DIFFERENT.

Aerobic exercise is the foundation of fitness; it strengthens the heart and lungs and builds up large muscle groups. Strength or resistance training is specific to muscle fitness; by increasing muscle mass, the strength, flexibility and endurance of muscles improve. It also helps strengthen bones and replaces body fat with muscle. Both types of exercise should be part of a fitness program; they complement each other.

• A PROPER WARM-UP

before activity increases blood circulation and carries more oxygen to the muscles. It also raises the temperature of the muscles, ligaments and tendons, helping make them more elastic and capable of enduring physical stress. Warming up (as well as cooling down) help prevent injury and muscle cramping.

• WARMING UP IS DIFFERENT FROM STRETCHING.

Never stretch unused, cold muscles. Increase your body temperature and circulation before you stretch by going through the motions of your sport, low-impact jogging in place or using a stationary bike for five minutes.

• STRETCHING DAILY is vital for a flexible body and is not only a prelude to exercise. Even if you can't work out or participate in a sports activity daily, stretching or yoga should become part of your everyday routine.

• FOCUSING ON ABOUT 20 MUSCLES

of the 640 in your body is all you need to do. These 20 muscles are organized into six muscle groups and are directly linked to the movements required by most recreational and sports activities. These groups are: abdominals; chest; back; shoulders; arms (biceps/triceps); and legs (quadriceps/hamstrings).

• MUSCLE GROUPS COMPLEMENT EACH OTHER

so if you're working on abdominals, also work on the lower back. If you work on the front of your legs—the quads—don't forget the hamstrings. Work the middle and upper back along with the chest and shoulders. This will keep your body balanced and in alignment, an important factor in avoiding pain.

• STRENGTH TRAINING HAS MANY BENEFITS.

Building up muscle mass and thus increasing the number of protein filaments in each muscle fiber improves posture and helps prevent back injuries, strengthens and stabilizes ligaments and joints, and protects against injury during sports and aerobic activities. Strength training may also help build up bones, causing them to pick up more calcium and increase in density.

• YOUR MUSCLES NEED TIME TO REST.

Your muscles need time to rest. Rotate exercises to rest muscle groups after a workout. If on the day following a workout your muscles are stiff, reduce weights or repetitions the next time and re-evaluate.

• OWN YOUR MUSCLE ACHES.

You experience muscle pains and soreness when muscles are pushed, pulled and actually torn. This process of rebuilding and mending muscles leads to strengthening. To soothe your muscle aches and pains quickly, apply BENGAY S*P*A directly on the area where your muscles hurt for fast, effective pain relief.

• IF A MUSCLE CRAMPS, either from overuse or underuse, you need to lengthen it by gentle stretching. Also massage the area to increase circulation and relieve tension.

• WEEKEND WARRIORS

who play participatory sports on weekends only should also be active during the week to maintain their fitness level and to keep muscles fit.

The shaman uses many techniques to reach the energetic level of a disease including the classic shamanic journey, guided imagery, soul retrieval, and directly touching the luminous body. Shamanic healing done in a safe, secure environment affects miraculous changes on the physical, emotional, and spiritual levels. Join Dr. Richard Sandore, a Western trained physician who now practices shamanic healing, for an experiential introduction to healing and empowerment in the shamanic traditions. ## HERBS:

Lovely to look at, soothing to smell & touch

Combine dried flowers and leaves in large glass bowl, crush spices, if using orris powder, crush too. If using vermiculite, mix with oil in a covered jar; add oil to vermiculite until mixture is scented, but not oily. Blend mixture with petals until mixture is scented nicely. Place the mixture in a large Ziploc bag seal tightly, and store in a dark place about six weeks until the fragrance mellows. Shake the bag, every other day to mix.

Here are some other cool herbal mixtures to try:

For a fresh body splash: Mix eight ounces of witch hazel with one of the following: 10 rose petals, five lavender sprigs, or one eucalyptus leaf. Store in a glass bottle and let sit for three days in the refrigerator.

Pat on lightly after a shower. The splash will keep for months.

Unwind and cool off with this relaxing soak for the tub. Place fresh or dried lavender or rose petals on a eight inch square of muslin. Firmly tie the fabric closed with ribbon and hang under the warm running water of your bath. Let the fragrance work its magic.

And for your aching feet after a long day's gardening try this peppermint foot bath.

Boil eight cups of water. Add one tablespoon table salt and five sprigs of fresh or ten sprigs of dried peppermint (or another mint, or rosemary).

Let stand until water is warm and comfortable. Pour into bowl and soak your feet 10 to 20 minutes. Rinse and apply lotion. Feet will feel great, I promise. Try some of these therapies, I'm sure you will enjoy them, and soon will be creating your own recipes.

Peace.

Sheriff's police bust three nude dancers for prostitution

Sheriff Gary Del Re has announced the successful conclusion of a court case originating from a covert investigation conducted by the Lake County Sheriff's Office at the establishment known as Dancers Las Vegas Style Nude Dance club, located at 20018 Rand Road, Palatine (unincorporated Lake County) Illinois.

"The investigation was initiated after the Sheriff's Office received complaints from the public and other sources in reference to the illegal activities allegedly occurring there," Del Re said.

Del Re continued by saying that the complaints centered around allegations of prostitution.

On Dec. 7, 1996 at approximately 11 p.m. after receiving the complaints, the Sheriff's Office sent undercover officers, posing as patrons, into the establishment to investigate.

"While in the club, one investigator received promises and offers of sex in exchange for money from four female employees of the business," Del Re said.

Three of the employees were identified as "dancers" at the club. A fourth was identified as a hostess. The hostess had direct involvement in making the arrangements between the undercover investigator and the three dancers. After securing the necessary promises and offers of sex from the women, Sheriff's investigators arrested five people at the club. The three dancers were each charged with one count of prostitution in violation of Chapter 720, Section 5/11-14 of the Illinois Compiled Statutes (ILCS). They are identified as:

1. Barbara F. Stromstedt (Canady) aka "Toni," age 31 of 554 Meadow Green, Round Lake Beach, Ill.
2. Kelly L. Allport, aka "Celeste," age 32 of 242 Sherwood, Glendale Heights, Ill.

3. Andrea L. Mihalfy, aka "Casey," age 32, of 430 Lakeshore Dr., Palatine, Ill.

The hostess was charged with three counts of soliciting for a prostitute in violation of Chapter 720, Section 5/11-15 ILCS. She has been identified as Victoria K. Kennedy, aka "Vicky," age 41, of 830 Old Oak Circle, Algonquin, Ill.

Also arrested was the business owner/operator. He was identified as Michael J. Christofalos, age 41 of 3408 Lands End, Highland Lake, Ill. He was charged with one count of keeping a place of prostitution in violation of Chapter 720, Section 5/11-17 ILCS. Christofalos denied having knowledge of the activities of his employees although he was on the premises when the activity occurred.

Sheriff Del Re indicated that the bench trial began on May 18. The case was heard by the Honorable Judge Patrick Lawler in courtroom C-307 at the Lake County Court House in Waukegan. After hearing the case, Lawler found Stromstedt, Allport, Mihalfy and Kennedy guilty as charged. The case was prosecuted by Assistant States Attorney Victor O'Block of the Lake County States Attorney's Office.

"Prior to the conclusion of the trial on June 25, 1998, Michael Christofalos was acquitted by a directed verdict," Del Re said.

The case was defended by Chicago attorney Joseph Obenberger.

"Being responsive to the concerns and to the safety of the citizens of Lake County remains a top priority of the Sheriff's Office. I hope operations such as this will send a clear message to those who violate the law at the expense of the community that this type of activity will not be tolerated," Del Re said.

Motorcyclists ride 100 miles for a good cause

By LESLIE PIOTROWSKI
Staff Reporter

The 1954 film "The Wild Ones," starring Marlon Brando, depicts motorcycle gangs as being nothing but trouble. But Gages Lake residents need not be concerned when they hear the rumble of some 300 machines on Sunday, July 12.

A group of motorcyclists will take part in a 100-mile ride to raise money for Glenkirk, a not-for-profit agency that serves people with developmental disabilities.

The ride will start and finish at Jesse Oaks Food and Drink, 18490 W. Old Gages Lake Road. The participants will depart from the sports bar between 9 and 11 a.m. and are expected to return no later than 4 p.m.

The focus of the ride is not on speed, but on how well the participants play poker. Along the 100-mile 'poker-run,' each participant will stop at five different bars in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin to pick up five playing cards.

Players will have an opportunity to trade cards for a cost if they think they can improve their hands.

At the end of the ride, the person with the best poker hand will win a $500 prize. Those who place second and third will also win cash prizes.

Among the riders will be Skip Smith, the bar's owner. It was his idea to host this type of event and to make Glenkirk the beneficiary.

"Being a bike rider, I go to a lot of poker-runs," he said. "It's fun for the people on the bikes and the money goes for a good cause. It's a win-win situation."

National children's video to premiere in Antioch

Madame Blueberry, VeggieTales newest video, will show at Antioch High School July 18

By LYNN GUNNARSON DAHLSTROM
Correspondent

Madame Blueberry, the newest, bluest member of the VeggieTales video series, will premiere at Antioch Community High School, 1133 Main Street (corner of Routes 83 and 173) on Saturday, July 18, 1998 at 10:30 a.m.

What's a VeggieTale? They're a video series, each about a half hour long, featuring computer-generated, animated, talking, singing, very humorous vegetables that teach children of all ages a Biblical perspective on things like forgiveness, fears, telling the truth, how you can do big things with God's help, loving others, resisting peer pressure and standing up for what you believe.

Big Idea Productions, Inc., the Chicago-based company that produces VeggieTales, was founded in 1994 by Animator Phil Vischer. Big Idea Productions, Inc. marketing vice president Ben Howard said Vischer, "Was looking to tell stories that helped parents teach values to their children. He first thought of using candy bars as the main characters, but he didn't think parents would like it so he opted for vegetables. That (trying to teach values) was Phil Vischer's goal then and that's what continues to drive the company today."

Madame Blueberry is the ninth original story VeggieTales video produced by Big Idea Productions, Inc. The Madame Blueberry video offers the lesson that "Being greedy makes you grumpy but a thankful heart is a happy heart," said Howard.

The Madame Blueberry video is premiering around the nation during the month of July in advance of the video's July 21 sale date. "Churches are showing it; theaters are being rented. At one Michigan location, they've already sold out one 800-ticket show," said Big Idea Productions, Inc. marketing assistant Betsy Wright.

Antioch is one of seven Chicago area Madame Blueberry premiere locations although it is the only premiere location in Lake County. Antioch was chosen because Antioch's Sonshine Books, Inc., a full service Christian Bookstore, is hosting the premiere.

Sonshine Books, Inc. co-owner Jim Matson said, "VeggieTales are a hot thing. Nationally, it's huge. They are certainly generating an enormous interest in the Christian market. The key point is that each one has a sound message based on the Bible. They teach good, wholesome values and are something, I think, any parent would feel comfortable with (having their children watch)."

A collection of the VeggieTales tapes are available at Sonshine Books, Inc. in Antioch. A July 18, 10:30 a.m. premiere is scheduled at the Antioch High School Auditorium for Madame Blueberry, the newest, bluest member of the VeggieTales video series. ## Senior volunteers to encourage young readers

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Senior citizen volunteers will read to young children on Tuesday, July 14, at the Cuneo Estate in Libertyville to illustrate the excitement inherent in the ability to read.

The program is part of the national America Reads program and is sponsored by Lake County's Retired and Senior Volunteer Program, RSVP.

"This is the first time we've done this," said Janet Crane, organizer of the program.

"We hope to get people interested in volunteering in the schools," she said. "We are looking for volunteers. There is a strong need."

RSVP is seeking new volunteers to work with children to encourage and help them with reading. Local, interested volunteers can call Crane at 847-249-4330 to learn more about the project and how they can participate.

"It's a national program that President Clinton and congress are supporting and asking for volunteers to help in the school," Crane said. "We've just (received) a grant to support 24 new volunteers in schools," she said of the county's program.

Crane hopes to hear from senior citizen volunteers by mid-August so they can host a meeting that helps the volunteers prepare for their experience.

"We'll try to get them as close to home as we can, many times right in their own school district," she said. Volunteers will work with children who are in pre-school and grades 1 through 3.

"Children by third grade should be reading at third grade level, minimum, in order to be successful in the following school years," Crane said. To make that happen, America Reads seeks to show that reading can be an enjoyable experience. County RSVP volunteers help make the program available to local children.

100 MILES: Riding for charity

Immediately following the run, the public is invited to a celebration at the bar featuring live music, food, door prizes and a cash raffle.

This is the second year the bar is hosting the event. "Last year, people loved it," said Lucy Coward, Glenkirk's senior special events manager. "We raised $5,000. This year we hope to double that."

Glenkirk relies on a number of special events throughout the year to raise money for its programs. The Northbrook-based organization serves more than 1,100 infants, children, adults and senior citizens with disabilities in Lake and Cook counties. One of its major activities is training people for jobs in the community.

"We train people to work at stores like Jewel, bagging and cleaning," said Coward. "We also train them to do mailings for companies like Baxter, or work at small assembly type jobs."

Ticket prices are $15 for riders, $5 for passengers, and $10 for those enjoying the post-run celebration. For more information call (847) 272-5111.

VIDEO: Lake County premiere

Auditorium premiere will feature drawings, give-aways, sing-alongs, and the video showing. Tickets are $2 per person with all proceeds from ticket sales going to Crisis Pregnancy Services of Lake County.

Purchase your tickets in advance at Sonshine Books, Inc. located at 952 Main Street in Antioch. For more information, contact Sonshine Books, Inc. at (847) 395-7737.

Sonshine Books, Inc. is also offering an opportunity to purchase the Madame Blueberry video which will go on sale July 21 for only $12.95 (offer expires August 1, 1998.) Those reserving a copy of the new video before July 21 get an additional $1.00 off the special, time-limited price.

Although Big Idea Productions has released two of its 10 video titles into the mass market ("Where is God When I'm Scared?" and "Are You My Neighbor?"), the Madame Blueberry video and seven others are currently only available in Christian bookstores.

As with all ticket sales to the July 18 premiere, Sonshine Books, Inc. pledges to donate $2 from every sale of the new Madame Blueberry video to Crisis Pregnancy Services.

More than 3 million VeggieTales videos, at roughly $14.95 each, have been sold in Christian bookstores around the nation since the first one came out in 1995. Since then, Big Idea Productions has also introduced t-shirts, books, a newsletter, men's neckties, games, cards, stationery, stuffed toys, musical products other promotional tie-in materials.

In fact, Howard said "The Veggie Tunes music cassette and compact disk is currently the #1 kid's musical product in the country according to the Billboard Children's Chart." Howard added that the two videos released to the mass market "have been very successful. This week, they are among the top 15 kid's non-theatrical videos according to Video Scan. They have been as high as #3 on the Video Scan chart."

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Alcohol a factor at murder scene

Gurnee—There was a struggle in the home at Glen Flora Avenue where three homicides and a suicide took place over Memorial Day weekend in Gurnee.

That was one of the findings presented to the Lake County Coroner's inquest jury, which ruled on the LaMere deaths last week. The jury of six members and an alternate confirmed there were three homicides by Daniel LaMere, who later shot himself.

"We believe that Alexander Lowe was shot first, followed by the girl, Lauren Munk, who tried to get up from her chair but could not. The wife, Nancy LaMere, was in another room and came in to see what was happening. She had one foot out the door. All were shot in a very close time frame," Barbara Richardson, Lake County Coroner, said.

Nancy LaMere had a blood alcohol content of .130 while Daniel's level was .248. The legal limit is .08.

An aunt is taking care of the 2-year-old Ryan LaMere, who was spared as he spent the night in a separate bedroom.

The bodies were found by a neighbor on May 26, about 24 hours after shots were fired, Richardson said. Most of the family was together watching TV when the shooting spree took place.

Referee charged in tax case

Antioch—An area NBA official was one of five individuals charged with filing false federal income tax returns.

Ronald F. Olesiak, of Antioch, will be summoned to appear for arraignment at U.S. District Court. He was accused of three-count criminal indictment for failing to report $65,000 in income he allegedly earned from "downgrading" airline tickets.

According to federal prosecutors, the NBA National Association of Basketball referees, and the NBA have a collective bargaining agreement which allows first class travel on airline flights lasting more than two hours. The labor contract required the NBA to permit the referees to fly in other than first class and "downgrade" to other sections, allowing them to keep the difference for personal use.

"The right to downgrade airline tickets was a major employment inducement by which potential NBA referees were told they could supplement their salaries. Excess reimbursement from downgrading was required to be reported as income, on the individual's tax return," Randall Samborn, spokesperson for U.S. Attorney General office for Northern Illinois, said in a press release.

Firefighter Awareness Day

Wauconda—Firefighters don't just fight fires anymore, something everyone should know by now, but some still don't. That's why the Lake County Museum and Wauconda Fire Department have gotten together the past eight years to co-sponsor Firefighter Awareness Day, this year on Sunday, July 12, from 1-4 p.m.

Modern and antique equipment, fire engines and ambulances will be on display on the grounds of the museum, located in Lakewood Forest Preserve, on Route 176 just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda.

Several equipment and rescue demonstrations will be held, including one using a ladder truck rescuing someone trapped on a rope line in the air. Specially trained canines will demonstrate their arson investigative skills, and people will have a chance to look at the Northern Illinois Medical Center Flight for Life Helicopter.

Three queens crowned

Mundelein—There are three new queens to represent the community for the next 12 months and at the Lake County Fair Pageants held later this month.

A total of 46 girls and young women entered the Little Miss, Junior Miss and Miss Mundelein Pageants held last week, but only three names were announced as the winners. They are Miss Mundelein Stephanie May, 18, Junior Miss Mundelein Mary Arzer, 12, and Little Miss Mundelein Melissa Villard, 8, who was extremely excited about winning after entering the pageant three years in-a-row.

"I just feel great and happy that I won," Melissa said, "and I also was so excited at the pageant. I cried a lot since I was so happy and I was so excited and surprised and I just felt so joyful," she said.

The Lake County Fair Pageants are being held July 28-30,

Wauconda Rodeo to run wild

Wauconda—The Wauconda Rodeo is more than just a community tradition, it is a well-known commodity among the professional rodeo circuit.

Record crowds are expected to turn out for the 35th Annual Wauconda Championship Rodeo this weekend at the Golden Oaks Equestrian Center, at Route 12 and Case Road between Route 120 and 176.

The rodeo will be held Friday, July 10, at 8 p.m., Saturday, July 11, at 7 p.m., and Sunday, July 12, at 2 p.m. Gates open two hours before the performance. Tickets are on sale at Wauconda Car Wash and at the gate before the show. Admission on July 10 and 12 is $10 for adults and $5 for children ages 12 and under. The July 11 performance has admission prices of $12 for adults and $6 for children.

Davis receives hefty raise

Round Lake—Dr. Mary Davis, Superintendent of Round Lake District 116, was shown unprecedented appreciation by the School board, when they voted unanimously to award her a roughly 24 percent increase in salary and a five year contract extension.

The wage increase brings Davis' base salary from $104,000 to $130,000, putting her among the highest paid superintendents in Lake County.

Included in Davis' contract is a two page addendum, created in response to new state requirements. The addendum emphasizes student performance, such as reducing truancy and drop out rates, and academic improvements such as implementing new technology and long term housing, and enhancing communications between the community and the school district.

Chicago man drowns

Fox Lake—A holiday trip on Fox Lake turned deadly as one man drowned while attempting to swim to the aid of his wife during the Fourth of July festivities on Saturday.

According to the Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, Kenneth Ryan, 40, of 3125 W. Bertie Road in Chicago, was pronounced dead on the scene as he was pulled from the lake at 7:30 a.m. on Sunday morning.

According to Ted Beskow of the Fox Lake Fire Department, Ryan and a friend were swimming in Fox Lake in an attempt to stop Ryan's wife from drifting too far from the speed-boat they were in.

Ryan's wife was in the lake cooling off on the hot day. It was also reported that she was wearing a life preserver at the time of the incident and the current started to pull her too far from the boat. She called for help, at which time Ryan and his friend jumped in to pull her back.

The friend and the wife arrived at the boat and climbed in, turned around and did not see Ryan. They called the emergency number directly from a cellular phone on the boat.

Wadsworth to increase patrols

Wadsworth—Watch out Saturday morning speeders, because the village of Wadsworth is sending a strong message to slow down.

At a recent board meeting the officials voted to extend the contract with Lake County Sheriff's office for six months.

The village of Wadsworth has contracted with the sheriff's office since January, and found the added police presence to be effective.

Within 6 months, 179 moving violations have been written, including 133 tickets for speeding.

$2.5 million probe continues

Fox Lake—In an effort to figure out exactly how much money is owed to the Northwest Regional Water Reclamation Facility by the Village of Fox Lake, the Fox Lake village board has decided to hire an accountant to determine if the $2.5 million is still located within the village books.

According to Mayor Pappas, the board has decided to go out for bid on a "forensic" accountant which will look into the funding of the treatment plant over the last 10 years.

The accountant will look into the paperwork, billing techniques and what Mayor Jim Pappas called the "money trail" for the plant, to determine how much is owed to the regional account of the water reclamation plant, where the money is at and to determine whether the money is in the local account of the village.

"The audit of the funds will be to specifically look at the accounts of the treatment plants to get down to a zero balance," Pappas explained. "The auditor will return to the beginning of the money and trace it, then come up with a plan to pay the money back."

This information was released after a week of finger pointing and information that has politicians and law officials scrambling to determine where the $2.5 million is at, who's fault that it has disappeared, who is investigating the missing funds and how to repay it.

Township meeting cancelled

Libertyville—A decision on the proposed Libertyville Township open space bond extension will have to wait one week, after the township canceled this week's regularly scheduled meeting.

Township supervisor F.T. "Mike" Graham said on Wednesday the decision was based on the fact that trustee Frank Underbrink would not be in attendance.

"We feel that this is an issue that the full board should be there for," said Graham.

The issue, an extension of the township's original open space bonds in an amount of over $40 million, was debated at a public hearing held on the matter June 25.

The rescheduled meeting is slated for Thursday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the township hall.

Decision on subdivision stalled

Warren Township—A decision on the petition filed by residents of the Daybreak Farms subdivision in Warren Township was put on hold Monday by the Lake County Regional Board of Education.

The hearing on the petition seeking detachment from two school districts so that students from the subdivision can attend Libertyville Township based schools was stalled while attorneys from both sides argued whether or not the petitions presented were valid.

The residents wish to be detached from the Warren Township High School District and the Woodland Elementary School District so that students can attend Libertyville Community High School District 128 and Oak Grove Elementary School District 68.

The regional school board voted 6-1 in favor of continuing the public hearing until the petition is refiled.

Sewer fund mess set in politics, neglect

A couple of hundred thousand dollars here. A couple of hundred thousand dollars there. What's the big deal? The cavalier attitude of how public funds are managed seems to be at the heart of the scandal of the $2.5 million in unaccounted funds in the operation of the North West Regional Sewer System sewage treatment works at Fox Lake. The system serves the Village of Fox Lake, the Greater Round Lake area, portions of unincorporated Grant Township through the Lakes Region Sanitary Dist., Lake Villa, Hainesville and part of Antioch.

As can now be painfully seen, an annual shortfall of several hundred thousand dollars a year tends to add up and after seven or eight years does indeed, become a big deal. Officials are pointing fingers and sending out stingers like a bristling porcupine.

What's to become of this mess, yet another scandal involving the Village of Fox Lake, no stranger to legal hot water?

No doubt unintentionally, County Public Works Director Martin Galantha explained how $2.5 million of public funds seemingly can disappear—right under the eyes of public officials. Galantha said the money likely was swallowed up by some bureaucratic "black hole." The busy County Works Dept. sometimes loses track of some business, according to Galantha. Oh! In this case, though, the county isn't directly at fault. In the system of inter-governmental agreements that gave birth to the regional sewer system, the county's job basically is to make sure the system is working, that something happens after toilets are flushed. Galantha's staff gets reams of reports from other agencies, but financial auditing isn't one of their responsibilities.

It was county government, specifically a previous County Board administration, however, that did away with a citizens advisory committee and politicized the workings of the regional system through appointments of pals to sensitive positions and pressures to hire of friends and dole out contracts to friends of friends. It was this mistrust of the county, that prompted Fox Lake Mayor Jim Pappas to take his misgivings about regional system finances to the FBI.

Another example of how responsible people were asleep at the switch is the role played, or more accurately not played, by the defunct Round Lake Sanitary District. The district became obsolete upon regionalization two decades ago, but remained in existence with funds remaining in the treasury ostensibly to serve as a watchdog for Round Lake area taxpayers. Obviously, the defunct district wasn't watching much and should have gone out of business years ago.

The North West system and the Lake County Public Works Dept. stemmed from recommendations of a blue ribbon citizens panel organized 35 years ago to study pollution that had gotten so bad that recreational lakes receiving sewage effluent had been turned into cess pools. The panel was appointed by then County Board Chairman Karl Berning, who later served with distinction as a state senator.

The biggest service the County Board could provide now is to organize another blue ribbon panel to spearhead full disclosure and to put in place oversight mechanisms and watchdog machinery to make sure those "measly" couple hundred thousand sums don't fall through the cracks anymore. As far as we're concerned, the sirens should sound and alarm lights should trigger even if only five cents can't be accounted for.

Challenging schools not for faint of heart

VIEWPOINT

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

The district is making some changes for the better in our opinion.

More for schools

Running for Illinois secretary of state, Al Salvi is talking about license plates and education. He's linked the two together in a nifty vanity license plate proposal where motorists can get special "school house" plates with the extra $25 the plates will cost going to the school district of the motorist's choice. Neat way for schools to pick up some extra bucks.

Salvi is buoyant about his chances, pointing out that polls show him favored over the Democratic nominee, Jesse White. Also, the party is solidly behind its 1998 ticket. Al tells a cute story to illustrate how things have changed since 1996 when he was nominated for the U.S. Senate, but was defeated in the general election. A downstate official recently told Al, according to Al, "Two years ago we were for you, but this year we're really for you."

Mall model

Rapidly growing Spring Grove (population in excess of 3,000) is getting the fever for a regional shopping mall that would add major revenue producers to help pay for expanded village services. Village fathers are looking at Cherry Valley (population of 2,144) as a model. The Rockford suburb is home to 960,000 square foot Cherry Vale Mall and a water park that produces in excess of $2 million in sales tax revenue.

Dave Kielpinski, chairman of the Spring Grove Economic Development Commission, thinks a big mall on Rte. 173 would be just ducky. The mall would draw customers from the Antioch area, Fox Lake and Wauconda, and southern Wisconsin.

sin. Kielpinski argues that Spring Grove "will be hurting" if it doesn't get a big revenue producer in 10 years. Sound familiar? Wasn't that the argument in Gurnee 20 years ago?

Recipe for quitting

Congressman Phil Crane (8th-ILL.) has an interesting recipe for quitting smoking. Simply get pneumonia and land in the hospital for a week. "After a week in the hospital last February, I had absolutely no desire for a cigarette." The one-time chain smoker hasn't lit up since.

Long time

It's been so long since Illinois has had a Republican in the U.S. Senate hardly any current GOP solons remember Charles "Chuck" Percy, relates Peter Fitzgerald, who hopes to remedy that come November by defeating Democrat Carole Moseley-Braun. Republican Percy was elected to his last term in 1978. After meeting with the Republican Senate caucus a few weeks ago, Fitzgerald found that the only senator who could remember Percy was Strom Thurmond.

An honest man

Score Bill Devore high on the scale for courage and forthrightness. The executive director of the College of Lake County Foundation admits that he is a White Sox fan; a fatal attraction he succumbed to as a child. How many White Sox fans do you know? We also discovered recently that Bill was the high school golf coach of Waukegan's David Ogrin, Lake County's gift to the PGA tour.

Moving experience

Viewing "The Wall," the half size replica of the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C., proved to be a moving experience. Our visit to the replica, conceived and maintained by Lake County Vets, a non-profit organization, was at a July 4 weekend display at Round Lake Beach. Viewers strolled solemnly along the 235.25 foot length, speaking in hushed tones, as if they were in a cemetery. I experienced the same feeling visiting the U.S.S. Arizona in Pearl Harbor. The display provides a direct link to the deceased. A catch of breath. A lump in the throat. The deep sense of gratitude is much more than a moment of pause.

Change of '847' area code—not again

They keep telling us that the collar counties have been gaining more clout and that Lake County, specifically, has flexed its muscle in recent years. If that is all true, can someone explain to me why it seems that someone is always trying to "dump on us."

In simple terms, tell me why we are suffering the indignity of being warned that for the third time during a short period we will, in all probability, be assigned with a new telephone area code. Our "847" has wings, and we in that area code should not hold still for what they are doing to us.

A few weeks ago, I attended a reunion of former legislators in Springfield and bumped into a long-time lobbyist for one of the telephone companies. He said that just a week before, amongst a group, my name was mentioned in that they would have heard some loud protests from me if I were around to speak out on such issues as company mergers and other public utility issues. I accepted his comments as a compliment since there are some issues that aren't in the best interests of the consumers.

He was surprised when I told him that I did not oppose the original breakup of AT & T. Of course, the reason I didn't was because the consumers had a fallback protection called public utility regulation. With the passage of de-regulation and now with the probability of mega-mergers in the public utilities field—consumers beware.

The issue that should have drawn a strong vocal protest from legislators representing the "847 area," and they were next to silent on it, is this scheme to again punish us by throwing a new area code our way.

They tell us that they are "running out of numbers," but I do believe that they are playing a "numbers game" on us. Isn't it true that of the nearly eight million numbers assigned to the 847 area code, over half are not in use? They are assigned to certain companies, but not used, and most of those are never intended to be used. Does that sound like a numbers shortage to

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Open space question for breakfast?

As a former founding member of the Libertyville Township Open Space District, it should come as no surprise that Lake County Board Member Carol Calabresa wishes to see continued advances in the preservation of open space.

But the stance Calabresa took at the township's open space public hearing has Party Lines baffled.

For someone who has been so critical of township supervisor R.T. "Mike" Graham's current intentions on extending the open space bonds, Calabresa waffled more than an overworked breakfast chef.

Calabresa wouldn't even take a stance on whether or not the public should get a chance to vote on the matter via a referendum, instead, she only cautioned the board that they would be under a lot of political pressure while making their decision.

Sounds like the political pressure may be getting to Calabresa. Would you like sausage or bacon with those waffles?

Hearing the public?

In the same vein, Party Lines can't help but wonder whether or not the township board heard the public at the public hearing.

Most everyone who spoke in favor of the proposed bond extension introduced themselves with their name, a title and which organization they belonged to. Some of them didn't even live in the township and wouldn't be paying off the $43 million extension.

Those who spoke out against the proposal, for the most part, just gave their name and their address. No titles, no organizations, just taxpayers who didn't want to be saddled with more debt.

Those speaking out against the extension were in the minority, but, if the township residents really want

Calabresa: Political pressure for breakfast.

Dixon: Sales tax boom

Wood: Has rare speaking engagement at home

this extension, not just land preservation groups and environmentalists, why not give them the chance to vote on it?

Business heroes

Local businessmen are new heroes to Lake Zurich Village trustees now that sales tax is a larger proportion of general fund revenue than property tax. Prospects are bright, that sales tax income will exceed $2.5 million for the current fiscal year. Village Administrator John Dixon said one of the most pleasurable announcements he has made in a long time was the report that December sales tax broke the $300,000 barrier, a first for Lake Zurich.

Peter to point

As Peter Fitzgerald campaigns for election to the U.S. Senate, one of his favorite themes is hammering away at high taxes. The way the articulate young state senator from Palatine puts it, "U.S. families are on a treadmill with one parent working just to pay Uncle Sam's cut." Actually, the cut is closer to 40 percent, but Fitzgerald gets his point across.

Talk to Corinne

One of the few opportunities for local voters to chat in person with Corinne Wood, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, will be Thursday, July 23, at the Country Squire Restaurant, Grayslake, at a reception in her honor. The Lake Forest resident, a key figure in GOP campaign strategy, has been kept on the road with a steady diet of county fairs and downstate GOP organization meetings. Wood is giving up a House seat from the 59th District to seek statewide election. The district includes parts of Waukegan, North Chicago, Libertyville Township, Lake Bluff, Deerfield and her hometown.

Word mangling by the masters

Albert Gore would like to be our next president. He's the guy who recently showered praise on basketball's Chicago Bulls and their amazing star, "Michael Jackson."

Dan Quayle also wants the White House. He's the Hoosier who spelled potato like this: "potatoe," and once began a speech at an Apollo 11 anniversary celebration with, "My fellow astronauts ..."

No matter how high and mighty they may get, Gore and Quayle will never live down those bloopers. As syndicated columnist Bob Greene wrote the other day, the spoken word is beginning to trump the written word. Something accidentally blurted into a microphone can outweigh anything else a person ever does.

Greene noted that the collected great thoughts and lyrical words of Shelley, Keats and Browning used to be preserved between covers so they would not be lost to future generations. Today that distinction goes to the likes of Terry Bradshaw, the famous former quarterback who once delivered these diatribes:

"I tell you right here, brother, if you can play until they run you off, suit it up and you keep competing. If I could have done it, I would have done the same thing. I am so lucky I was hurt. I had no choice."

Bradshaw's babbling appears in a new book titled "The Quotable ESPN," along with other word-mangling by athletes, coaches and reporters over the years on the ESPN cable sports network.

Says Greene: "The carefully formed phrase on a sheet of paper is no match for the quick opinion blurted into a live microphone."

I have a similar book titled "The 776 Stupidest Things Ever Said," a tongue-in-cheek tribute to the many celebrities who at one time or another suffered from foot-in-the-mouth disease.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Some samples:

Golf commentator, on the air during a tournament: "Arnie Palmer, usually a great putter, seems to be having trouble with long putts today. However, he has no trouble dropping his shorts."

Baghdad Betty, Iraqi radio announcer trying to destroy the morale of American troops during the Gulf War: "While you are away, movie stars are taking your women. Robert Redford is dating your girlfriend, Tom Selleck is kissing your lady, Bart Simpson is making love to your wife."

Mayor Marion Barry of Washington, D.C.: "Outside of the killings, Washington has one of the lowest crime rates in the country."

Actor John Wayne: "I don't feel we did wrong in taking this great country away from the Indians. There were great numbers of people who needed new land, and the Indians were selfishly trying to keep it for themselves."

Eva Braun, writing to a friend from Hitler's bunker during the bombing of Berlin in 1945: "I can't understand how all this can happen. It's enough to make one lose one's faith in God."

New York baseball broadcaster Phil Rizzuto, during a game in which news reached him that Pope Paul had died: "Well, that kind of puts a damper on even a Yankee win."

President Gerald Ford, on the 1976 campaign trail: "Jimmy Carter speaks loudly and carries a fly spotter, a fly swasher — it's been a long day."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Public should decide question of open space

Iwould like to call your attention to two sometimes overlooked aspects of Libertyville Township owning Open Space as opposed to Lake County Forest Preserve owning it.

First, the township has no ranger force to police the land. This leaves policing up to the village or the County Sheriff. Most of the Open Space land is not identified as Libertyville Township property. Land is not posted "NO TRESPASSING" and entrances are not gated. Open Space is not closed at dusk as is Forest Preserve. Open Space land has been used for four-wheeling during the day and partying at night.

Second, the Township has almost no staff to maintain the land. In 12 years of owning open space, very little has been done in this area. In the Open Space plan in section 2, page 3, the topic "Effectively Manage Open Space Areas" was identified as number 2 in priority, yet the plan for this is missing. Who is going to do the planning and carry out the work? What is the budget and where will the funding be coming from now and 20 years from now?

Be aware that plans and promises can change with the seating of a new township administration. For example, plans were made by the Swank administration to install trails through the property bordering Casey Road. Contracts were let. These have been put on "HOLD" by the Graham administration.

I doubt that the soccer fields would have been built under Graham's 1985 administration, but they were allowed under the Swank administration.

My personal opinion is that the public should be given the opportunity in a referendum to express their renewed commitment to open space. The Township Board should not vote on bonding for some 60 plus million dollars until the results are in. This is far more money than either the high school or library recently asked for via referendum. Until then, the remaining open space bonding power should be used only for ongoing maintenance of the existing open space.

Golf should be more accessible for youths

The Lake County Forest Preserve District is building yet another golf course. This one, named Thunderhawk, will be close to the Wisconsin state line and will be an upscale course designed to cater to the more affluent golfing community. Whether an expenditure of $10 million, for this project, could be considered a prudent expenditure of taxpayer's money, I leave to heads far wiser than mine to ponder. It is my personal opinion, however, that Lake County should not be in the country club business.

Although designed for the affluent, there is, at least, a way for the less advantaged to share in this bounty. About a year ago, I passed on to a board member a packet of information from the Chick Evans Caddie Scholarship Fund. The information described in detail how to establish a caddie-program that could provide deserving youths with an opportunity to earn money, build character, get experience with golf, and possibly earn the chance to receive a college scholarship.

The idea is good. It has worked and is working in hundreds of similar situations. The beneficiaries are the youngsters involved in the program, their communities, society in general and golfers who long for the days when caddies were available. Isn't the Chick Evans program worth a serious look?

you? Not to me. If anything, it appears that someone is hoarding numbers, for whatever purpose.

It seems to my mind, simple as it may be, that someone has decided that we in the 847 area code are destined to be the guinea pigs to launch toward the use of 11 digit dialing. Well, if 11 digit dialing is the necessary future for telephone dialing, don't hamper us in the 847 area code with your needless and mindless experiments. We have been "dumped on" twice with area code changes while others are considered "untouchables." No, we won't accept this "third charm."

It appears that the cellular phones and pagers are being made out as villains in this area code mess. It is more than that, I'm sure, and at the bottom of it, like everything else, is profit.

Isn't it amazing that in this time of technological wizardry and revolution that they can't come up with a better and more simplified system of dialing that would avoid this mess? For example, let's say that a cellular number is 1 (847) 000-

0000. Across the country, for all cellular and paging phones, couldn't they be assigned with a separate first digit e.g. 2 (847) 000-0000.

They would still be listed in our 847 area code, but the "2 prefix" would signify it as under a cellular or pager number. Maybe this is too simple, but surely with all of the technology skills available, something can be done to come up with a better and simpler system that would avoid this very disruptive changing of area codes.

At least, the Citizens Utility Board is fighting this latest attempt to do us in. Having been the first legislator to introduce CUB and, with former Senator Dawn Clark Netsch, saved it from extinction when pro-public utility legislators tried to get rid of it, I feel some gratitude.

I don't believe that Ameritech and others who are pushing this area code change for us 847 users will get away with it. I would like to think that the Illinois Commerce Commission will be pro-active in behalf of us consumers, but I'm not holding my breath. But, I believe that public pressure, the strong efforts of the Citizens Utility Board and that the whole scheme is so half-baked and rotten and needless will all work toward our benefit.

THE FLIGHT OF '847' MUST BE GROUNDED.

Collection strategies: Speeding up slow paying customers

The front door to your business is swinging open with increasing frequency. Sales are up more than 17 percent compared to last year. The problem: you still don't have any money.

There is more to cash flow than increasing sales and customer counts. Cash flow is having money when you need it.

When small-business owners come to me with cash flow problems, I start with an analysis of their financial statements. If the business is growing and appears to be generating an adequate profit margin, I examine capital spending and accounts receivable management.

I often find cash flow problems linked to collection policies. As a business grows, accounts receivable grows and many accounts are frequently allowed to collect themselves.

According to collection experts, the average small-business owner waits 47 days for payment. If you make the sale on the first day of the month, and send the invoice on the last day of the month, you can stretch the collection period to 77 days.

Your goal is to shorten the time between selling the product or providing the service and getting paid. Here are some tips for dealing with slow paying customers.

Three Power Points

- First, don't confuse sales with cash. Just because you advertised it, sold it and delivered it, doesn't mean you'll get paid for it. Receivables won't cover your payroll, pay your rent or protect your credit record. You need sales and cash.

- Second, understand the two types of slow paying accounts. They are: Slow pay that's good pay and slow pay that's bad pay. Slow pay/good pay are quality companies or individuals with good credit histories, who have always paid you, but historically have taken 45-60 days. Slow pay/bad pay are troubled companies or individuals with marginal credit history, a record of non-payment and those who never pay without prompting.

- Third, consider positioning your company to move away from open-account credit. Create a policy to accept major credit cards, checks and cash only. Many of the faster growing chains have this policy and it isn't hurting their sales.

Protecting Your Cash Flow

Here are some suggestions for improving cash flow and collection rates.

- Establish a policy. If you have open accounts, establish a written policy and provide it to your customers.

- Check credit. When you open new accounts, do a credit check. Update each active credit file annually.

- Monitor accounts. Once you agree to sell on open account, monitor those accounts closely. An accounts receivable aging statement will allow you to cate-

New concept makes oil change for boats easy

Marina owner pioneers quick oil change for boats

By LESLIE PIOTROWSKI
Staff Reporter

It's summertime and Lake County boaters are looking forward to many weekends of cruising the Chain O' Lakes. But there are some things they don't look forward to, such as the inconvenient, yet all too necessary, oil change.

Now things are changing. Robert Freese, owner of Lube Tyme at Route 12 and Pistakee Lake, maintains that he has pioneered a less time-consuming way to change oil.

"My concept is to do oil changes for boats the way oil changes are done for cars," said Freese, who operates his business out of Ben Watt's Marina.

He explained that people typically have to leave their boats at a marina for three or four days for an oil change. The fact that he does lube changes right on the water speeds up the process. He can complete a 5-quart oil change in three minutes. And while a typical oil change costs $75, he charges only $49.95.

Price and convenience are not the only advantages Freese has to offer. "My oil is professionally handled and disposed of," said Freese. "Safety-Kleen picks it up and handles it in a professional manner."

Freese is concerned about the environment. So often oil changes, especially those done by boat-owners themselves, result in oil spills.

"There's been a rift between environmentalists and power-boaters," said Freese. "Lots of boaters drain their oil into containers and just dump it."

The dumped oil becomes a hazard to the lakes. "One drop of oil can spread out 100 feet," said Freese. "Four gallons of oil can contaminate 100 acres of water."

"Given the opportunity, most people want to dispose of their oil in an environmentally safe way, but so many take the easy way out and just dump it over the side," said Freese. "The day after a busy weekend, you can see the oil on the water."

Freese explained that used oil is particularly dangerous to the lakes. "Old used motor oil has many contaminants," he said. "It hurts plant and insect life and the lives of animals that depend on water. Eventually, it gets into the soil."

Freese can assure his customers that their used oil is handled in a way that doesn't harm the environment. "I provide access to an inexpensive way of doing the right thing for investing in one's boat and investing in the environment," said Freese.

Lube Tyme opened on Memorial Day. Freese, who lives near Wauconda, came up with the idea last November and began talking it over with Pennzoil. Pennzoil had already applied a similar concept to its marine division. However, Freese said he is the first to open with this technology in the Midwest.

"I took existing technology and refined the process myself," he said. "I added different lines and made sure my machines worked as well as possible."

Freese's future plans include relocating his business north of Choo Choo's restaurant later this year. He is now in the process of purchasing the property. He also plans to participate in boat shows within a 200-mile radius this winter.

When asked how he became interested in this type of business, he responds: "Since the time I was old enough to take apart a go cart at 11, I've always been wrenching. I've built cars, snowmobiles, boats and houses. I'm a gear head."

Recreation trend continues as Mills anchors fill up

Gurnee village officials are pleased with the caliber of tenants Gurnee Mills is attracting.

"They have made a lot of progress over the last 18 months with bringing in Bass Pro Outdoor World, an ice rink and a bowling alley. There is a big demand for an ice rink because there are only two in Lake County—in Highland Park and Zion. We have people from our town who have to skate at 4:30 a.m. or 11 p.m.," said James Hayner, village administrator.

The firm behind both proposals for the ice rink and bowling alley is Forrest Development, led by Leo Marubio of Libertyville.

"Gurnee does not have a bowling alley now. We had Brunswick Inc. double check our market study. They said Gurnee could support 100 lanes," said Marubio.

The bowling center will use Brunswick, Inc. Equipment.

His firm has developed commercial properties in Vernon Hills and Lincolnshire and has about 20 years experience in Lake County.

Both Gurnee Mills sites would be located at the north end of the mall. Tenants have been told they would have to relocate to make room for the new stars.

"This will better the traffic flow for the north area. There are two to four stores who will have to relocate due to the ice rink," said Joe Szymaszek, general manager of Gurnee Mills.

Area hockey teams welcome the new site, along with a new Waukegan ice rink.

"Rumors are always abundant about an ice rink's opening, but I am sure the Mills rink will open. It will really be beneficial in keeping ice costs down. Ice costs is the most expensive part of hockey," Mike Kotlar, manager of Zion Atoms youth hockey, said.

Gurnee Mills is seven years old this August. It opened with seven anchor stores and with the new additions, it will have 17 anchor sites.

"We had 18 million visitors last year and we are 29 percent ahead of last year's pace. This rounds out the entertainment mix as we try to attract shoppers to stay longer," Szymaszek said.

The ice rink, the first phase, and bowling alley are considered to be multi-million investments. There could be future plans forthcoming from Forrest Development, but details have not been announced.

Features at the ice rink are birthday parties—Marubio said his firm is big into that—and a play area for youth. There will also be a cyberspace feature, allowing for international games of laser tag, a cafe, as well as the more serious task a resource for job searches.

The hockey rink will meet professional size requirements. It will employ technicians, instructors, coaches, referees and management personnel.

Groundbreaking is expected this summer.

Developers said the village's permit process will be "fast tracked" so the ice floor may be in place by next spring with the bowling alley open in 2000. A 2,500-square-foot restaurant near the bowling alley is also in the works.

Marubio said he considers himself a community minded individual. He is on the board of directors at Carmel High School.

Hayner said the village is pleased with Gurnee Mills' cash flow in its first seven years.

"It was not as big as stated at the zoning hearing, but we have backed off from that," he said.

Also at the Mills, the inspection is completed for an expanded Rainforest Cafe seating area.

A Saturn car dealership is going through the planning process for a Gurnee Mills outlot.

Bakers awarded spots at 1998 festival of trees

Although the event takes place in November, area bakers are preparing to take part in the Victory Hospital Foundation's 1998 Festival of Trees Bake Shop.

Community bake shop hours at the festival have been expanded so that ten area organizations will participate in the Festival of Trees, scheduled for November 19-22, 1998. Lake County organizations which will be manning the festival bake shop are: Altrusa International of Lake County (Waukegan), Arbor Garden Club (Zion), Grayslake Middle School Science Olympiad (Grayslake), Gurnee Community Church (Gurnee), Joy of Life metropolitan Community Church (Waukegan), Junior's Woman's League of Waukegan/Gurnee (Gurnee), Mom's Club of Gurnee (Lindenhurst), North Star Boosters (Zion), St. Anastasia PTO (Waukegan) and Wadsworth Lions (Wadsworth).

The selected bake shop organizations will have the opportunity to raise money for their cause by supplying and selling home-made cakes, cookies, breads, pies, and candies during that time. A 15% donation of their proceeds will go to the festival in support of women's health services at the Victory Surgery Centers in Lindenhurst and Waukegan.

Community members can participate in the 1998 Festival of Trees, held at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth. For volunteer information, call 360-4248.

TAYLOR: Collection tips

gorize accounts by time periods such as: current, 30 to 60 days, 60-90 days and over 90 days.

• Watch for danger signals. Here are a few: Folks don't abide by agreed to payment terms. An abrupt change in their pattern of payments. Frequent changes of address. Checks coming from different banks. Larger than usual orders. (This may indicate that your customer is stock-piling merchandise because of credit or cash flow problems of their own.)

• Collect quickly. Make an effort to collect all accounts which are more than 30 days old. Even if it is only a "second notice" or a personal letter or call, do something. Don't let slow pay, become no pay.

• Bill frequently. Don't wait until the end of the month to send out bills. Invoice the day you make the sale, provide the service or deliver the product. As a minimum, bill at least twice monthly.

• Don't let the problem get bigger. Don't continue to sell to accounts from which you aren't collecting unless they make payment commitments and keep them.

• Offer discounts for early payment. Be certain your profit margin will stand the decrease.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear ...Search,
Three weeks ago I interviewed for a position in management for a new retail store moving into our area. I was told at the end of the first interview that the company would be doing an investigative background check on me. Not really thinking about it until now, I do not recall being asked for my permission to do this investigation. My concern is that I have received a letter from this company basically saying, "thanks but no thanks". I called the Personnel Department and asked why it was I have been turned down. Their answer was that they have had a tremendous amount of applications on file at this time which is allowing them to select the top candidates. I questioned if that was so, why they continue to have the "HELP WANTED" signs big as life on their entrances. Realizing I was getting nowhere fast, I gave up. I have worked in retail for the past six years and while, I have never had a background check done to my knowledge, I would like to know if there was anything on that report that may have hindered my getting this job, and if so, do I have any right to a copy of this report that is now in the hands of this employer? I am both embarrassed and frustrated as a few of my friends have been accepted for employment there and I have no excuse as to why I was not. Thanks for your help.
C.R. - Round Lake Beach

Dear C.R.,
First let me start by saying that you must have signed a form permitting the company to obtain this information. The first step you should take is to contact the store at which you applied and speak with the personnel department in a very calm and professional manner. Ask for disclosure of the report obtained by their company. The Federal Credit Reporting Act states that a company must disclose this information to you upon request. Some companies require you to contact them by telephone, some in person, others in writing, and there is to be no charge to you for the copy of this report. Once received, should you see any discrepancies or inconsistencies in your report, tell the investigation firm immediately. Anything contested by you must be further investigated by the firm and incorrect findings must be reported to the employer who ordered the investigation immediately. When first calling the employer to request a copy of this information, remember to keep your cool. Although you received a letter of what you are assuming to be rejection, (without knowing the exact contents of the letter), another person may just interpret it as, "not at this time, but we'll keep you on file". Just be sure, if you want to work for that employer bad enough, not to burn your bridges! Good luck.

Letters can be sent to Nancy Sakol c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

As lots become narrower and narrower, it is imperative that home designs change to accommodate. The Maggie (407-08) with 1,154 square feet is a perfect starter home, and is ideal for a narrow lot. It is a traditional style home with a two car garage in front and covered porch area to the right. The covered entry leads into the living room with a coat closet flush to the left wall.

An unobstructed space is created by combining the living room and dining room areas. An eating bar makes a transition into the kitchen, allowing conversation among family members during meal preparation. Overhead cabinets above the bar are ideal for dishes since the dishwasher and sink are close by. A pantry is located next to the refrigerator for ease of storing grocery items. There is an abundance of overhead cabinets throughout the rest of the kitchen. The range and oven have no shortage of counter space.

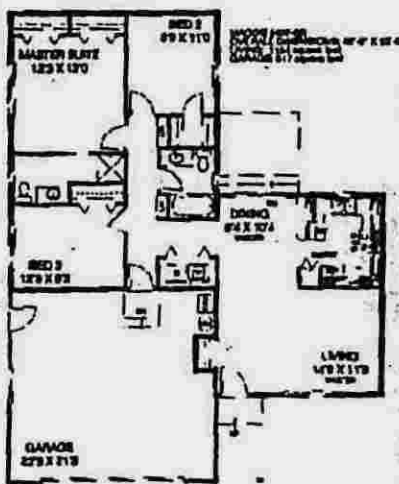

Two steps down from the patio doors off the dining area is a large patio, perfect for potted plants and outside furniture. This is ideal for the family to enjoy barbecues and backyard gatherings.

Well partitioned from the balance of the home, the bedrooms and full bath are situated on the left side, down a hallway. Bedrooms two and three each have large windows and ample closet space. Linen closets are located off bedroom two and the bath. Convenient to the bedrooms is the washer and dryer, set behind bi-fold doors next to the entry of the garage.

To balance this well proportioned home, the master suite has his and hers closets, located along one wall, that simplify clothes organization. A pocket door separates the room from the master bath. A large window livens up the master suite itself, while the bathroom window brightens that room.

Overall, the Maggie accommodates a young family or the empty nesters. It is narrow and long, wonderful for the modern lot sizes and easy to enlarge.

Harriet looks a bit like a lynx here as she romps and climbs on the Assisi Animal Foundation's outdoor "catio", which the cats all seem to love on days such as these!

Harriet is one of many beautiful, fully socialized and affectionate cats of all ages to be found at the AAF's award winning, no-kill shelter. Adopted companions are inoculated, spayed or neutered and ready to give a lifetime of love and companionship to permanent responsible households.

If you love cats, open your heart and home to a loving feline! The ASSISI ANIMAL FOUNDATION (815) 455-9144 or FAX (815) 455-9417.

Dr. Trask

Ask The Vet

Ask The Vet: Dr. David Trask is part of a group of northern Lake County veterinarians who pooled their money and expertise to start All Creatures Emergency Hospital in Grayslake providing emergency care to pets nights, weekends and holidays. During the day he can be reached at Lindenhurst Animal Hospital.

"SEE YOUR VET BEFORE YOU GET A PET"

Question: My cat is 14 years old, and lately has been sneezing a lot and has a wet snotty nose. Could this be an allergy?

Answer: Although it is possible that your pet has some sort of allergy, this would not be our first thought on the subject. With a pet of this age and with these symptoms we would first want to take a look at the teeth to see if there were signs of abscesses, periodontal disease or other tooth or gum problems. Another thing to check would be a nasal polyp or tumor in the nasal passages. In any case these symptoms in any age cat would warrant a trip to your veterinarian as soon as possible. Some of the above listed problems can evolve into more serious and/or life threatening problems.

Question: My dog is about 11 years old and I have noticed that his eyes seem white and cloudy. Does he have an infection?

Answer: In many pets as they get older their vision starts to deteriorate. The majority of the time that cloudiness is the beginning sign of failing vision. Many pets' vision is lower in darkened times of day and spaces. Outdoor lighting in the pet's area and lights in the home on stairwells and rooms shows to be very helpful. Nightlights in hallways and staircases are recommended since these outlets are usually low and in the pet height of vision. In any case an examination by your veterinarian is recommended to be sure there is not a potentially more serious problem.

Do you have questions? Please send them to Pet Parade, c/o Lakeland Publishers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

ELLIE, a honey blond little charmer who is a true flirt at heart! She's a young adult, pedigreed and one of the sweetest cocker spaniels we've met!

She grew up sharing a home with cats, has been around horses, so she's pretty sophisticated and wonderfully friendly.

Giving her up was not an easy decision for Ellie's former owner, and the only reason it had to be, was because of a sudden family emergency.

For information on adoptions, please call The ASSISI ANIMAL FOUNDATION (815) 455-9144 or FAX (815) 455-9417.
